Huge Craft Vanishes In Lake Storm

Bodies Of 8 Men Also Discovered As Hunt Is Continued

By ED MARKAITT

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. (AP) — A gigantic air-sea search for survivors of the storm-sunken freighter Carl D. Bradley was intensified today after two survivors were rescued and bodies of eight seamen were spotted in Lake Michigan.

Coast Guard cutters and planes spearheaded the intensive search for the rest of the 35-man crew. The hunt, hampered by high winds that lashed the lake, was stepped up after reports that a life raft with men aboard had been sighted. It was not located immediately.

Sank Late Yesterday

The Bradley sank in the icy waters of upper Lake Michigan late Tuesday.

Found alive were Frank Mays, 26, and First Mate Elmer Fleming, 43, both of Rogers City, Mich.

A Coast Guard amphibious plane crew reported sighting several more survivors on a raft nearby off High Island. It gave no figures.

Condition of the two rescued was not immediately determined. The cutter Sundew quickly picked them up and other rescue craft sped toward the scene.

High Island is some 45 miles out in the lake from Michigan's northwestern shore.

High Island is north and east of Gull Island, off which the 615-foot Bradley went down after sending a desperate "may day" distress signal reporting she was breaking up and sinking.

It had been feared that the Bradley's full crew had perished with her in the mountainous waves whipped by winds of up to 60 miles an hour.

One of the first vessels responding to the Bradley's frantic calls for help said it found evidence the ship might have been split in two by a violent explosion.

One report said the ship struck Boulder Reef, on the Michigan side of the island.

Towering 20-foot waves whipped up by 60-mile-an-hour winds battered at the stricken vessel when the first S.O.S. electrified Coast Guard radio monitors.

Breaking Up, Sinking

The last official distress message received from the captain was a foreboding: "We are breaking up and in a sinking condition."

The Charlevoix Coast Guard reported hearing the Bradley's radio operator shouting hysterically: "Get on your life jackets. We're going down."

Then there was silence. No more was heard from the freighter, once the largest ship on the Great Lakes.

Union Delays Strike Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Possible strike action against the nation's four major television-radio networks was deferred again today by a performers' union.

The union, the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, said its strike deadline would be extended at least through further talks scheduled for tonight.

The union had set a Tuesday midnight strike deadline.

A union spokesman said the major obstacle was the question of performers' rates for network use of programs recorded on the new video tapes.

Helicopter For Civilian Use Will Be In Production Soon

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — Within a year and a half you may be able to hop into your own helicopter and whirl off to work.

The president of a helicopter firm today set that target date for marketing a two-place helicopter coupe for civilians. He said the revolutionary craft would sell for about $5,000.

The tiny copter, called the Gyro-Jet, will have fold-up rotors and can be driven on the ground from home or office to heliports. Gilbert Magill said in an interview.

Russian Reds Give Bulganin Another Push

MOSCOW (AP) — Usually informed sources said today former Premier Nikolai Bulganin has been dropped from the Communist party's Central Committee, his last important post.

The bearded former traveling companion of Nikita Khrushchev also has been dismissed from the minor post to which he had been relegated, head of a regional economic council at Stavropol, sources said.

There have been no public announcements of either move. They have been expected, however, since Premier Khrushchev, at a Central Committee meeting a week ago linked Bulganin with the "anti-party group" ousted in July 1957.

The group included former Premier Georgi Malenkov, former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, Lazar Kaganovich and Dmitri Shepilov. It was widely reported that Bulganin sided with them against Khrushchev, then changed sides when it became apparent Khrushchev would win out.

Bulganin, reportedly in failing health at 63, resigned last March 27 as premier.

Fair Weather Due For Area

BALTIMORE (AP) — Five-day forecast: Temperatures will average 4 to 6 degrees above normal. Fair and cooler Thursday with generally fair weather through the remainder of the period. Somewhat warmer Friday and over the weekend. Normal highs range 47 to 54. Lows vary from 25 to 30 in Cumberland westward to the 30s in the east.

Strong northwest winds from the violent storm which raked the Rockies and northern Midwest fanned cold air across the eastern half of the nation today.

Gale warnings remained posted on the Great Lakes.

Wind gusts of 50 and 60 m.p.h. lashed northern Michigan Tuesday. A big cargo ship with a crew of 35 was caught in the mountainous waves of Lake Michigan and apparently broke up and sank off Gull Island, 38 miles north of Charlevoix.

The missing 615-foot carrier was the Carl D. Bradley. Gale-like winds also hammered the north shore of Lake Superior as the tail-end of the storm struck the Dakotas and northern and northwestern Minnesota. Towering waves smashed summer cabins and resorts as the storm swept into northwestern Ontario.

At least 10 deaths were attributed to the snow storm which pounded sections from Idaho, Utah and Arizona northeastward to Minnesota.

However, skies cleared and temperatures rose from sub-zero and freezing levels in the storm-stricken areas of the West. Warmer weather was the outlook in all areas west of the Mississippi River.

As for spending, Martin said Eisenhower is determined to cut expenditures wherever possible.

"He is disturbed about the integrity of the dollar," Martin said.

Martin said Eisenhower also hopes to avoid asking Congress for another increase in the public debt ceiling. The temporary ceiling of 268 billion dollars will revert June 30 to the new permanent ceiling of 283 billion.

Martin declined comment on the new move by Harold E. Stassen to keep Vice President Nixon from winning the GOP presidential nomination in 1960.

He predicted the Republicans will be able to work with the new, heavily Democratic Congress.

"We always get along pretty well with Democrats," Martin said with a chuckle. "There are a lot of good Democrats."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two scientists presented more evidence today of a link between dirty air and lung cancer.

Dr. Thomas F. Mancuso, industrial hygiene chief for the Ohio Health Department, called air contamination a "highly probable and important factor" in the higher rate of lung cancer in cities than in rural areas.

He said studies showed a "marked excess" in city lung cancer rates "distinct from smoking patterns" of the victims.

The U.S. Public Health Service last year found heavy cigarette smoking to be one cause of lung cancer. Its chief, Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney, said Tuesday there was increasing "circumstantial evidence" that air pollution also is a cause.

Both spoke at the National Conference on Air Pollution.

Mancuso, in a speech prepared for delivery to the conference, said statistics show that the urban lung cancer rate "increases in combination to result in lung cancer."

Space Study Plan Backed In UN Meet

Russian Agreement Heartens West On Assembly's Action

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The prospects looked good today for unanimous U.N. agreement to get started on an international study of ways to explore outer space for peaceful purposes.

Russia's sudden shift toward the Western position brought demands from several quarters that Western and Soviet delegates meet to iron out their remaining differences and formulate a unified resolution for the U.N. Assembly.

Reds Drop Demands

Western delegates were heartened by the new Soviet proposal, which dropped earlier demands for abandonment of U.S. bases overseas and a ban on military space missiles. This appeared to eliminate the chief hurdle to agreement.

In presenting his new plan, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin made plain the Soviet Union would continue to press for abolition of American overseas bases and a ban on sending military missiles into outer space.

But he indicated this would be done through the new 81-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission.

Russia's new proposal called for creation of an 11-nation study group to work out the "program and rules" for a permanent U.N. committee for cooperation in the study of outer space for peaceful purposes.

The United States and 19 associated nations have also proposed creation of a temporary committee to study the possibilities of international cooperation in outer space and to recommend the form for a future space agency.

The American plan does not specifically authorize a permanent commission.

Zorin Offers List

Zorin also proposed a list of members for the preparatory group which is likely to draw western opposition. His nominations were the Big Four — the United States, the U.S.S.R., Britain and France — with India, the United Arab Republic and Sweden as neutrals, Argentina for the Latin Americans, and Poland, Romania and Czechoslovakia for the Communist bloc.

Since India and the U.A.R. frequently side with the Soviet Union, it appeared unlikely the West would accept a committee on which it probably would be outvoted 6-5.

Vanguard Tests Will Be Halted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vanguard scientists are giving up this year any more attempts to send satellites aloft.

In six tries so far, only one satellite was put into orbit by a Navy Vanguard rocket. That 3½-pound sphere was sent up March 17 and may stay in space for 200 years.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said a study now under way aims at increasing reliability of satellite vehicles.

AFL-CIO Gets Dare By Carpenters' Boss

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO faces a problem of backing up its anticorruption drive or possibly losing another of the labor federation's major unions, the Carpenters.

Maurice Hultschon, the Carpenters Union boss, has dared AFL-CIO President George Meany to stop investigating the carpenters or risk withdrawal of the 840,000-member union from the merged labor organization.

Having already tossed out the 1½ million member Teamsters Union on corruption charges, AFL-CIO leaders may think twice about further depleting federation ranks, now down to about 13½ million members.

At an AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting two weeks ago Walter Reuther, head of the Auto Workers, and James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, moved to oust Hultschon as a council member and AFL-CIO vice president right then and there.

However, the council decided to give Hultschon more time to explain his refusal to answer questions by the Senate Rackets Committee and to discuss his indictment in Indiana highway scandals.

While shunning an invitation to attend that council meeting, Hultschon sent a written denial of wrongdoing or misuse of union funds. Then last week the Carpenters Union convention authorized Hultschon and fellow union officials to pull the union out of the AFL-CIO if and when they see fit.

The way things stand now, the AFL-CIO council has asked Hultschon to appear and make his explanation of corruption charges at its next meeting, in February at San Juan, Puerto Rico, or at a special session whenever Hultschon is ready.

Reich Reds Hint Plane Route Curb

Control Over Air Corridor Sighted By Puppet Regime

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany dropped a strong hint today it expects to get control over the Allied air corridors leading to isolated West Berlin. These would be the Allied garrisons' only lifelines if surface routes were closed.

The hint came in the East Berlin newspaper Neue Zeit.

It declared the United States, Britain and France are violating a four-power agreement that the air corridors—stretching between Berlin and Frankfurt, Hamburg and Hannover — would be used only for Allied military purposes.

Carry Many Refugees

Pan American, Air France and British European Airways use them for regular passenger flight. These airlines also carry out the thousands of refugees that stream into West Berlin every month from East Germany.

Neue Zeit contended the Western Big Three were using the corridors "for purposes of the cold war" and the time has come for new negotiations on their use.

This article fits another piece into the pattern of the Soviet bloc's campaign—launched off by Premier Nikita Khrushchev last week—to turn over control of supply lines to the East German Communist and force the Allies out of Berlin.

Soviet withdrawal from the four-power occupation of the old German capital is now considered a certainty, although authorities here had no idea how soon it would come.

The Western Big Three were already getting set to cope with the impending transfer of control over surface supply across 110 miles of East German territory. These were cut in the 1948-49 blockade that was broken by airlift.

The Russian action was expected to touch off the most serious Berlin crisis since the 1948-49 blockade.

The United States, Britain and France were reliably reported to have prepared steps to take if the East Germans begin controlling Allied military truck convoys or trains. The East Germans already regulate civilian traffic from West Germany.

Plans Not Revealed

Western officials declined to say what Allied soldiers would do if checkpoints now manned by Russians are turned over to representatives of the East German regime which the Allies refuse to recognize.

But experts here believe the Allies will react with these steps:

1. Formally refuse to accept East German controls.

2. Protest strongly against a one-sided Russian withdrawal from the four-power occupation agreements drawn up after World War II.

3. If left no choice, yield to East German controls while making it clear that this does not constitute recognition of the Communist regime. East Germans naming checkpoints would be regarded simply as agents of the Russians.

An alternative would be for the Allies to attempt an airlift similar to the one that broke the Soviet blockade in 1949.

Then, however, the Allies had to supply the 2,200,000 people of West Berlin. With civilian traffic not involved this time, an airlift would only have to supply the approximately 10,000 Western troops and civilian officials and families in West Berlin.

Norfolk's People Prefer To Keep Schools Closed

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Local voters advised the City Council in an informational referendum Tuesday that they do not want six closed white schools returned to city control for integrated operation.

It was the first time the question had been put to residents in any of the three localities in which schools are closed under Virginia's massive resistance to integration laws.

Unofficial returns from the city's 46 precincts gave 12,340 votes against requesting Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. to return the schools to 8,712 votes for making the request.

The outcome of the balloting is not binding on the council, although at least five of its seven members had indicated they would act on a majority vote.

Three junior high and three senior high schools have been closed since Sept. 29 when the City School Board, complying with a Federal Court desegregation order, enrolled 77 Negroes. State law requires the immediate closing of any public school in which the races are mixed.

The law also provides that the

Hunt Continued For Navigator

HILL AFB, Utah (AP)—Ground parties and Air Force planes searched the frozen wilderness east of here again today for the missing navigator of an ill-fated C-119 transport plane.

The plane's eight occupants parachuted into the storm-swept mountains of northeastern Utah last Friday after one of the craft's two engines failed. The plane crashed in eastern Idaho.

Four of the eight were rescued. Three died in the sub-zero cold before rescue parties found them. Officials held little hope of finding the missing airman alive; He was Capt. Donald Liggelt, 40, Indianapolis.

Dixie Girl Owns The Moon, Claim Was Filed In 1950

GUNTOWN, Miss. (AP)—Every time they launch a missile into space, pretty Charlene Majors worries about her property.

She owns the moon. Yes, sir. At least, the U.S. Reclamation Bureau recognizes her legal claim.

On Oct. 14, 1950 Mrs. Katie Hopkins Majors filed her daughter's notice at Tupelo, Miss., after the proper legal investigation.

It states Miss Majors' position with admirable clarity: "I, Charlene Majors, am hereby placing claim on planet moon and shall defend said title against any persons or nations that might attack."

The acquisition fulfilled Charlene's childhood ambition. She isn't the only planet owner in the family. Her cousin, Mitchell Herring, now serving in the Marine Corps, owns the planet Mars. Whether the corps is cognizant of this is not known.

Charlene is a geology major at Mississippi State University at Starkville and looks forward to the day she may visit her heavenly domain.

However, she has not yet figured exactly how she would defend the moon against attackers or poachers.

No matter. For the legal line being, her claim stands staunch. A fellow in Knoxville, Tenn., who tried to add the moon to his possessions a couple years ago found that Charlene had got there before him.

The Reclamation Bureau turned his application back.

Planes and ships of the Coast Guard reported no sign of survivors.

First to join the German ship at the scene was the cutter Gwendolyn from Charleston, some 35 miles away. The buoy tender Hollyhook from Sturgeon Bay, Wis., was dispatched to help in the search.

As the searchers combed the turbulent seas, the temperature dropped to sub-freezing and southwest winds howled in one of the worst late shipping season storms in years.

Throughout the long night, flares lit up the scene. When the Sartori exhausted its supply, a plane dropped a fresh load.

Today's Kitchen Likely To Be Gleaming Showplace

Contrasts With Gloomy Drudgery Of Yesteryear

Hidden away in the back of the house, the old-fashioned kitchen was a gloomy place of drudgery for most women. By contrast, today's kitchen is likely to be a showplace. Batteries of gleaming appliances make it one of the most attractive and exciting rooms in the house, and have done almost as much to emancipate women as the right to vote.

Of course, the "good old days" boasted their appliances too. Powered by elbow grease, they were crude and heavy affairs, often hammered out by the local blacksmith. It was almost as much effort to use them as to get along without them.

Today's lightweight, high-speed appliances owe their existence both to the wonder of electricity and to a machine most people have never heard of, much less seen—the continuous sheet mill. Developed by the American steel industry during the 1920's, the continuous sheet mill spews out a ribbon of steel faster than a mile a minute. And much of this ribbon will end up in the kitchens of America in the form of appliances.

Triumph Of Economics. Before this mill was developed, sheet steel production was a slow, expensive process. Available only in limited lengths and widths, the sheets were hard to fabricate. Smooth curves and rounded corners were virtually impossible; as steel. And much of it is pretty special stuff. Gleaming stainless steel—the "jewelry" of the industry—is a commonplace; electrical motors are virtual "lime capsules" of electrical and metallurgical science. The special electrical sheets used in motors are very expensive, but worth every penny as far as the motor makers are concerned.

DEVELOPED by the American steel industry during the 1920's, the continuous sheet mill spews out a ribbon of steel faster than a mile a minute. And much of this ribbon will end up in the kitchens of America in the form of appliances.

Remarkable Improvements. There's a whole story in the special cold-rolled sheets used for porcelain enameled surfaces. These sheets—"enameling iron"—to the men who make them—are among the most carefully made of steel mill products. And improvements in them as well as in the enamels have been remarkable. Like so many steel advances, they may "look the same," but the locked-in improvements become apparent during their long life and high-quality performance.

In the parlor, it is considered impolite to talk about how much things cost. But in the nation's steel mills, cost is a vital topic of conversation. It is theoretically possible to build at least some appliances without using a pound of steel—but you wouldn't like the results. The substitute products would be impossibly bulky, for one thing, and the performance highly questionable. But the biggest drawback would be price. There are materials which can substitute for iron and steel in some jobs—but they usually cost many times as much.

But how can you compute the price of drudgery? How can you figure the dollars and cents value of a washing machine compared to hours over a scrubbing board? And the great value of today's appliances is the way they free the housewife to come a real homemaker and not a kitchen slave. In 1940, washing machines were just coming into their own while dryers were a new innovation. Today, washer-dryer combinations are commonplace, and

Food Waste Disposal One Of Best Ideas

Chances are you've overlooked one of the best white Christmas ideas of all—but it's an idea that dishwashers are becoming equally usual.

All of these advances, and the new machines just around the corner, have been based on the assumption that enough steel, of the right kind, and at a suitable price, would be available. The steel industry has spent literally billions of dollars in the last decade to fulfill all three conditions. In addition millions have been spent to develop new steels, and unrelenting efforts exerted to hold down costs before that purchasing machine in the kitchen could even be considered.

almost four million Americans have thought of already.

Installation of a modern food waste disposer does away with the entire subject of garbage. There's no doubt about the widespread appeal of disposers; they're being installed in one out of every three new homes being built this year.

Owners of disposers indicate that the appliance is truly a year-round gift, conferring benefits in the summer as distinct as in the winter.

There's no need to dwell on the advantages of eliminating food waste before it can become garbage in the summertime with heat and insects complicating the matter of garbage disposal.

Today's Appliances Save Housewives Time

How big a package does leisure time come in? And where can you buy it? There's not a husband alive who wouldn't like the answers to those questions—for leisure time is obviously the best gift he could possibly give his wife for Christmas.

Actually, the answers are surprisingly simple. That's because today's labor-saving appliances are also time-savers. Thus, the lucky lady who receives a major appliance from her family as a Christmas present is getting more than simply a machine which will make her work easier—she is, in effect, receiving a "package" of leisure time. These extra moments will come to her every day of the year and they are hers to do with just as she wants.

No husband will be surprised, of course, if his wife devotes most of those new found leisure moments to the family as well as herself. That's one beauty of an appliance as a Christmas present—the family reaps the indirect benefits even as mother herself gets the real use out of it. The woman who owns a modern home freezer, for example, will find that precious moments just before meal time can now be spent with her family and guests. Delicacies prepared long in advance merely have to be removed from the freezer and popped in the oven. And if she owns a modern range with the latest in automatic controls she'll have just that much more time in which to relax before the meal is ready for the table.

Or, if the Christmas gift comes in the form of a dishwasher, the family will be able to relax together after the meal while the machine takes over the clean-up chore, which once made mother an exile in the kitchen. Meal times, however, are not the only hours of the day from which extra leisure moments can be extracted by modern appliances. A big, spacious refrigerator, for example, eliminates the need for repeated, time-consuming trips to the store. Shopping once a week is enough, for the wife with a modern refrigerator.

Modern-Day's Kitchen Sink Many Presents In One

Has Central, Varied Uses In Kitchen

Time was when people talked about "everything but the kitchen sink."

Nowadays, modern homemakers have learned that "everything" is likely to be in the kitchen sink—the modern cabinet-sink, that is.

Modern materials and modern designs have made it possible to turn the once homely sink into an attractive, streamlined cabinet package which harmonizes with other appliances and performs a central role in efficient kitchen operation.

Gives Needed Space

There's almost always a shortage of storage space in the kitchen and the cabinet sink provides an eminently sensible solution to the problem of creating additional storage facilities. Its steel construction not only provides a strong, permanent storage area but also guarantees that maintenance and cleaning will take a minimum of time.

Metal construction does away with cracks or crevices which might collect dirt and the lasting exterior finish stands up well even after extreme usage.

For many women new sinks have a particular appeal because buying a new sink is the biggest single step one can take to update a kitchen. As a matter of fact, many kitchen remodelers recommend that any step-by-step remodeling plan should start with a new sink and surrounding cabinets.

From this foundation one can build on, adding additional special purpose cabinets and new appliances as time and budget permit. The standardized dimensions of steel sinks and cabinets make such a program particularly feasible.

For have designers stopped their development work by merely glamorizing the old-fashioned sink with an exterior of useful cabinet space.

New Functions Added

New designs are appearing on the market which add new functions to the sink. One firm has introduced a "servi-center" which includes automatically timed electric outlets for small appliance cookery, a dispenser to supply detergent and hand lotion, a light for the sink bowl, and a series of easy-to-clean tilt-out storage bins.

Well aware of the usefulness of cabinet sinks and that such new innovations are being made, it's little wonder that the modern housewife would be considerably more than pleased to see one of these automatic electric sinks in her kitchen on Christmas morning. For her, it truly would be a White Christmas.

They're Trouble-Free

Trouble-free operation is feature of modern gas refrigerators, which have no motors, compressor belts, valves or other moving parts to break down.

LOOK WHAT'S HAPPENED TO THE KITCHEN SINK! Happy is the homemaker who finds that her personal Santa Claus has presented her with a modern cabinet sink. One of the greatest conveniences of a cabinet sink is the automatic dishwasher that frees the wife (and very often the husband) from the drudgery of hand washing and drying an average of 3,795 dishes a month. It takes less than half the time to do dishes by machine, and the hotter water makes them more sanitary.

Changes Made

Meals are prepared in less than three hours a day, by today's homemakers in today's modern gas kitchen—compared to nine hours daily meal preparation time for yesterday's homemakers.

Do Special Cooking

Special controls, griddles, roaster ovens and other features of the new gas ranges now perform special cooking functions that once required many auxiliary appliances.

Twist Of A Dial

Adjustment of water temperature for personal use or for a variety of household chores is as simple as the twist of the dial on your automatic gas water heater.

Dream Washer May Clear Table

One dream kitchen of the future has a motorized dishwasher which runs right across the room to the dining room table for ease in loading dirty dishes.

Machines like this aren't available yet, but you may want to consider using a wheeled serving cart to bring dishes from the table to the dishwasher. The cart is useful in putting clean dishes away, too, as well as for dozens of other kitchen jobs.

Smooths Clothes

Use the top of your clothes dryer as a folding and smoothing surface. The heat of the dryer aids in smoothing the clothes.

New Broiler Keeps Barbecue Flavor

This Christmas outdoor chefs and Sunday food specialists can turn out delicious flame-broiled steaks, chops and burgers right in the comfort of their own kitchen or family room.

The man of the house will be overjoyed with this new gas appliance for modern living—a gas-fired barbecue broiler. While eliminating the mess and bother of charcoal, the new broiler retains the genuine barbecue flavor by heating ceramic "coals" with the blue flame of natural gas.

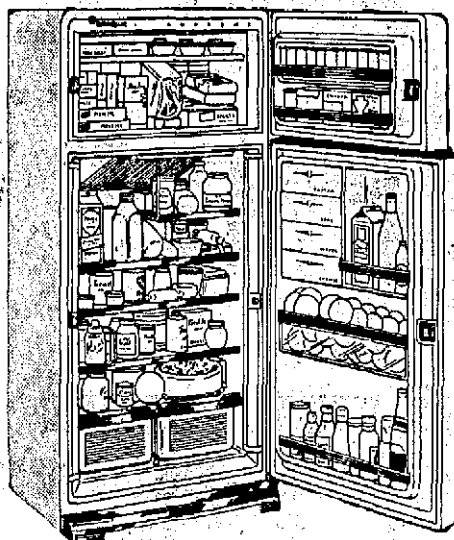

Actually, flavor is obtained by using the intense heat to melt the fats of the meat quickly. This process creates flame that sears the meat. Flavor is enhanced as the flame subsides and the drop of bulk food.

How Big?

Here's a good rule of thumb for judging the capacity of a food freezer: one cubic foot holds approximately 35 pounds of bulk food.

Borrowing To Buy Now Pleasant, Practical

By OTTO LORENZ
Associate Editor,
The American Banker

A recent national survey of 100 leading bankers undertaken by the AMERICAN BANKER revealed the faith these responsible men of business have in their borrowers. One hundred per cent of them said they are ready and willing to help good customers during periods of uncertainty, such as reduced income, temporary layoff and unemployment. Here are some typical comments gathered from bankers around the United States:

From Detroit, where layoffs and unemployment were probably more frequent than anywhere else, one of the nation's leading bankers says: "We naturally are sympathetic to co-operative borrowers, particularly if delinquency is caused by unemployment. We have been through prolonged periods of unemployment in the past, and while delinquency has risen sharply during those periods, losses were kept to a minimum as we nursed our good borrowers over the bad spots."

Borrowers Considered

A well-known banker in Kalamazoo, Michigan states: "We will extend every consideration to those borrowers who have had a reasonably good record. We'll refinance the loan, extend it or, if necessary, even charge it off and allow the customer to pay as he can."

The same consideration extends to Texas where the consensus of opinions from bankers was that they weathered recessions, strikes, and even a depression and had always met their customers as individuals and handled each loan with patience and understanding. Throughout the Southwest and over to the Pacific coast, the same thought of your local utility will be glad prevailed. The bankers would continue their long-standing policy of fair consideration to borrowers.

From Nashua, New Hampshire, came this welcome comment: "This bank is very much aware of the fact that if a man has trouble, he is still the same man of whom we thought of pretty highly when we made him the loan."

Down in Florida, bankers believe that a liberal extension and renewal policy, properly applied, will reduce losses and create good-will among deserving customers. "Tough tactics," says an Orlando financier, "are a poor substitute for intelligent collection policies."

Yule Loans Feasible

And similar, heartening voices were heard clear through the farming areas of the country and across the northwestern states as well.

There is no reason to let lack of cash and fear of the future stop or delay you from buying that appliance you have in mind. Go see your banker. It will be worth it.

Learning To Use Freezer To Full Advantage, Easy

Learning how to use your new freezer is no problem. The basic "Lexibook" is the instruction book which was packed with the freezer. It contains hints on use and care as well as instructions for packaging food, data on storage life, and an assortment of tested recipes.

Most modern cookbooks also contain sections on home freezing. The U.S. Dept. of Agriculture and your own state college of agriculture have bulletins available on the subject. Finally, the home service staff of your local utility will be glad to make suggestions and answer questions.

THE WHOLE FAMILY makes itself at home in today's attractive, well organized gas kitchens. With versatile utility the keynote, the kitchen is part of the family living area, as well as the center of Mom's homemaking projects. And efficient gas appliances, from ranges to water heaters, are handsomely designed to make themselves at home with any kitchen decor.

Tiny Blue Flame-Gas-Spells Comfort

A tiny blue flame, as old as the earth itself, will impart a warm glow this Christmas in millions of homes across the nation.

The turkey roasting in your oven with its tantalizing aroma, will be cooked to perfection—golden brown, tender and juicy. Your home will be comfortably warm, your food safely preserved, your laundry quickly done thanks to this tiny blue flame.

All you did was turn on the gas and your silent servant sprang into action. But you were also setting in motion a cycle of events that rang a bell 'way back in Texas—or deep in the swamps, high in the mountains, under the sea and across the plains, where thousands of rugged men maintain a steady search for natural gas.

Pipeline Network

Thousands more of these modern-day pioneers are extending the pipelines that carry natural gas into 28 million American homes, using over 100 million gas appliances. Natural gas is whisked across the country by its own multi-million dollar pipeline transportation system, covering some 548,820 miles. This is enough to circle the earth 22 times.

At various points along the pipeline, carefully trained men operate stations that wash undesirable ingredients like sulphur, from the gas. Still others scour the pipe to clear it of clogging residues. Many technicians are employed at pipeline laboratories sampling the gas for heat values and chemical content.

And that isn't all. According to the American Gas Association, there are 200 underground storage facilities in the U. S. where gas can be kept in summer to take care of winter needs. Because these facilities once were gas wells, they provide ideal geological conditions for the storage of gas under pressure.

Round the Clock Job

Another big round-the-clock job in providing nationwide natural gas service is the task of the numerous compressor stations which are so spaced across the country that they can push the gas along through thousands of miles of pipe at the proper pressure.

At the city gates, your local gas company takes over. A so-called "town border station" reduces the pipeline pressure of the gas to the much lower degree you'll require in your home.

And finally, the utility mains empty into building-by-building feed-lines, which run the fuel straight through your meter and into your gas range, water heater, clothes dryer, refrigerator, incinerator, or central heating-cooling system.

Vanishing Americans

According to figures compiled by the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, the household servant is the vanishing American. In 1930 there were well over 400,000 domestics employed. Twenty years later there were fewer than 150,000. Fortunately American women have wonderful new appliances to replace the ever dwindling supply of household help.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of minds and the flag of our Union for ever.—Morris.

We Fall Short

THE HISTORY of this country reflects with stirring force our devotion to the ideals and practice of peace. We are not nor ever have been a nation which starts wars. We came late and reluctantly to taking part in the great wars of this century. Thus there is painful irony in the well-remarked fact that today so many people in the world think of us as a country holding a gun. It would be some comfort if we could ascribe to Communist propaganda full blame for this twisted image of American character and purpose. But this we cannot do.

THE UNHAPPY fact is that while we are no more warlike than we ever were, we do things which sometimes allow other peoples to draw the wrong impression. We put heavy stress upon defense pacts in relations with some of our foreign friends. Though the conviction grows that Russia banks most heavily upon economic and political warfare to conquer the world, we find little interest in the U.S. Congress in fighting such a war. The overwhelming bulk of foreign aid must have either a direct or indirect military stamp to win approval. And even that assistance is usually voted only after the lawmakers have been deliberately scared into believing that a war threat of great or small degree exists somewhere on earth.

AT HOME, WHEN we contemplate our links with the rest of the world, too frequently the talk is of weapons, weapons, weapons. It is a wonderful thing that we are alert to the peril from a tyrannical aggressor, as we were not in the years of the two world wars. But our very alertness has led the new aggressor to shift his offensive to the economic and political front. If we do not match him there, we magnify the risk of losing the long-run struggle. And we leave ourselves exposed as the one great nation seemingly insistent on giving the East-West conflict a narrowly military character.

Real Test Ban Goal

FOR THE TIME being, at least, nuclear weapons tests seem to have halted. If Russia balks at resuming tests in the face of the U.S.-British agreement to quit them for a year, there may be a suspension for at least that long. This is good news, but it should not blind us to the continuing need for an agreement that will permanently halt test explosions before they dangerously poison the atmosphere. The recent flareup of excitement when the Los Angeles radio-activity count jumped is a foretaste of what might eventually come if tests go on indefinitely. A thing to remember is that scientists are not agreed as to the extent of danger from radioactive fallout. Until there is substantial agreement among experts, it is good sense to hold tests to a minimum. Otherwise we may wake up some day to find that the danger point has been reached. A year's suspension is fine, but the world will hope for a workable big-power arrangement to end tests permanently.

Opportunity

OUR CULTURE provides unlimited opportunities for the gifted, all right. A few decades ago, for example, a lad who wanted to compose music had two choices: he could whip up popular ditties, or he could compose so-called serious music. In latter days, the musical horizons have been expanding in all directions. Now a young composer isn't limited to either Tin Pan Alley or symphonies. He can also devote himself to providing musical background for movies and television shows. If that palls, he can turn to writing melodies that sell consumer goods—anything from toothpaste to hardtop convertibles. There is even—and now we come to the best of it—a golden chance for young composers with no talent for music. They can devise peculiar, attention-grabbing noises for little-let TV commercials. And if the noises sell enough widgets, the composer doubtless will be paid more than Beethoven received for the "Eroica." Which may be fair enough. After all, how many widgets has the "Eroica" ever sold?

EVERY American likes to vote for a winner—and hopes that in doing so he won't make himself a loser.

Alford's Seat In House Likely To Totter

WASHINGTON — The new House of Representatives will see a sharp challenge to the Southern Democratic bolters who have so far managed to eat their cake at home and have it in Washington too.

Northern Democrats led by Rep. John Blain of Minnesota intended to question the party status of Dr. Dale Alford, newly elected Congressman from Little Rock. They have convinced Speaker Rayburn that this line they aren't fooling.

Dr. Alford won a write-in victory over Rep. Brooks Hays, who had been nominated in the regular party primary last summer. A segregationist supporter of Gov. Orval Faubus, Dr. Alford ran as an independent, but now says he expects to enter Congress as a Democrat and so gain the emoluments and perquisites which come from being with the majority.

IT IS ONLY natural that Dr. Alford should advance such claims. In recent years Democratic Congressional leaders have stoutly resisted all efforts to punish party bolters, including those who deprived the Truman-Barkley ticket of the Democratic designation on the 1948 ballot. All bolters lined up at the gravy train as usual and none were turned away.

One of them, Senator James Eastland of Mississippi, is now a major embarrassment to Democrats outside the South from his powerful place as Chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee. Rep. Frank Boykin of Alabama continues happily as ranking Democrat on the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, a spot of enormous importance to him in his naval stores business.

SINCE THESE decisions were made by party leaders, however, the Supreme Court has outlawed segregation, and the South has been increasingly isolated within its chosen instrument, which is the Democratic party. It has lost elder statesmen whose personal influence was very great, notably Senator George of Georgia.

Other circumstances have altered the case of Dr. Alford. He is a newcomer, not an incumbent who has already established ties of favor and friendship within the Congress.

The reverse is true. He defeated an eight-term incumbent who is both popular and respected here. Rep. Hays has apparently been defeated because his religious principles—he is a leading Baptist layman—impelled him to attempt to act as peacemaker in the Little Rock situation.

REP. HAYS is still a segregationist, which casts a cloud on the attempt of some well-meaning people to win him laurels as the most to be admired Democrat of the House. But in the Little Rock situation he acted courageously and, as events in Virginia are proving, he is in tune with the times.

Thus the vested interests are not working for him. And on Nov. 4 last, the Democratic avalanche was propelled mainly by vigorous young liberals who are committed to driving the party away from the Faubus philosophy.

IT IS THE view of this group for whom Rep. Blain speaks that it is actually doing every Southerner but a bitter-end segregationist a favor by turning its back on Dr. Alford.

If the South can be made to realize that the price of bolting is very high in Washington, it is argued, then it will not soon again be tempted to replace a popular moderate like Hays with an Alford.

They are really, they insist, writing an insurance policy for every Southern incumbent in the Congress who might otherwise be faced with an Alford write-in campaign.

Crisis Can Reveal Nasser's Real Aim

WASHINGTON — (NEA)—With experts now predicting a new crisis building up in the Middle East, it is possible that the real character and purposes of United Arab Republic's President Gamal Abdel Nasser will be made clear.

There has been much uncertainty about the Nasser motives and ambitions in Washington. The official line of his spokesmen is that he has been completely misunderstood here. The complaint is that Zionist groups in the U. S. work deliberately to promote this misunderstanding.

It is maintained that Nasser did not create the new, militant Arab nationalism, but that he is the creation of this movement. The awakened Arab peoples are said to want governments of their own choosing before everything else.

They are said to want freedom from all foreign domination. They are said to have no interest in bringing either the Soviet Union or the United States into the Middle East. They want no part in a war between the two.

THIS IS described as Nasser's policy of nonalignment. Arabs claim the United States does not like this policy.

The Arab contention is that the United States and other Western powers want all Mideast countries to join in a pact against Russia. This Nasser has refused to do.

One reason given is economic. The United States, England and France will not buy Egyptian cotton. Russia and the other Communist countries will take it in trade or barter. So the Egyptians do business with the Communists.

Egyptians say they have to sell cotton—their only export crop—to survive. They have to sell cotton to build their country. They want to develop new resources and industrialize to match the threat from Israel's industrialization if for no other reason.

But the principal reason is said to be the desire to raise the standard of living of the great mass of 80 million Arab people. Neglected for six centuries, with little schooling, less hospitalization and not enough to eat, today's Arab people are said to be totally uninterested in wars between the East and West. What they are said to be interested in are peace and bread.

IT IS AT THIS point in the pro-Nasser presentation that Western diplomats begin to ask for better proof. For the Nasser government thus far has not shown that its primary concerns are peace and the welfare of its people.

When sales of Egyptian cotton to Europe were cut off, there was consternation in Cairo — for a time. Then the Nasser government apparently came to the conclusion that since the Egyptian people had next to nothing before, they would not be much worse off if the cotton remained unsold till new markets could be found.

When those new markets were found in the Communist countries, the Nasser government did not barter its cotton for consumer goods to raise its living standards.

It bartered for arms. It was argued that this was self-defense against Israel, which had attacked Egypt twice and might attack again. But the arms and heavier military expenditures later did not better the people's welfare.

ANOTHER point raised in doubt of Nasser's sincerity and the good intent of all Arab governments is their attitude toward the million refugees from Israel.

Grant the injustice of these refugees being forced from their old homes in Palestine. A humanitarian attitude would still have dictated some action to help get these brother Arabs resettled in other Arab lands.

Finally there has been the more recent action of the Arab League in giving 34 million dollars to back the Algerian rebels. The question has been raised as to whether this money could not have been spent better at home, if peace and raising the standard of living are the first U.A.R. goals.

NEW YORK — Three women of New York: She is under 40, an accomplished, recognized actress, and beautiful. In three media she has excelled: theatre, films, television. She is happily married, has a baby she adores, her desk at home is piled with scripts of new plays, at least a dozen of them, the authors and prospective producers of which want her as star.

A few months ago she began going to a psychiatrist — often. Sometimes several times a week. At $35 per visit. She also became a compulsive eater and on top of that takes a few highballs during each 24 hours. She now weighs 162 pounds, her chins are showing.

She could not possibly accept any play, even one she wanted much to do, without a rigorous, difficult regimen of reducing and curbing her compulsions. She speaks of all this openly and candidly.

"I don't know what it is. I can't stop eating. I like drinking but I am not an alcoholic. My marriage is a wonderful marriage and my baby perfection. I simply do not know what is happening to me, although I am consulting a psychiatrist regularly (trying to find out). I know what I'm doing to myself and can't stop it."

THE SECOND is just over 40 with a combination career in each of which categories she is successful. She is a fine writer and a fine actress. She is blindingly beautiful. Truly, blindingly. Lovely beyond expression and her mind is a diamond, clear, brilliant, unflawed.

Some years ago when she came to New York — as an aspiring young actress — her then living and wealthy father put $100,000 in securities aside for her, so that she would have an income. She has never, therefore, had to struggle and be afraid.

Almost a year ago, her widowed mother died and left $1,400,000. When all taxes had been paid, a million dollars remained. She received $500,000, her sister received the other $500,000. For life, her income, even conservatively, therefore, is ample and secure. Some years the dividends may go down a little, some years up. They will average out comfortably.

WE SAT together the other night in her apartment, alone. Her husband was out of town, my bride was rehearsing. We talked long, easily and frankly, as old, trusted friends. She said she was restless and nervous about her work. It wasn't going well. It seemed more difficult to put into prose exactly what she meant to say.

"I suggested that the now strong sense of safety, of economic safety, was momentarily making a barrier which would break down. 'I don't think it's that,' she said. 'I had an income as a youngster, I knew eventually I would have a much larger one. It was simply there, like breathing, not like suddenly winning the Irish Sweepstakes. I was used to what I had and unexcited about what would be coming.'

"Living with money and the prospect of it was as stimulating as living with an old and comfortable pair of shoes. So it can't be that. I don't feel suddenly safe. I always was, fortunately. But even with income, way back, I felt compulsion to work."

"I've always wanted to work. I like it. I thrive on it. I have done good work. Accepted work. One never impinged on the other. If I felt like writing a novel or a movie, I wrote it. Out of sheer love for creative work. And it came as easily as acceptable willing ever does. This sudden lack of ease is what dismays me."

SHE IS 44, slim, attractive, smart in fashion, smart in the head. She is a business executive with a salary income of $100,000 a year. One of America's top female success stories.

She is always fun to sit with and talk to, a woman through whom a refreshing breeze always blows, a sunny woman, too. And beneath it all she is not content.

"I don't think I ever was meant to be a success in business, slugging it out against men in a competitive field," she said. "I think my true métier was home, husband, children. The old German three K's: kinder, kitchen, kirche."

"I've had husbands, two of them. No complaints. Genuine men, I was no crutch ever, they never were crippled. Men. On their own. One died young, one was a war victim, Korea."

"So be it. No children. My fault, I think. I was married to aggressive, intelligent, men, I thought they wanted a wife walking along with them instead of slaying home with children. My drive for that created the business drive and here I am: $100,000 a year and unhappy as a woman. I know I wanted to be pampered, flattered, petted and made to feel lovely. I should have worn frilly things and been all female. I didn't do that. And now it's too late."

Assignment America

NEW YORK — Say what you will, about books, moonlight, sleeping pills — it is a man who gives a woman her greatest dreams.

Some men are good for marriage dreams, others for wealth. An occasional man pulls forth dreams of self-improvement in a woman, and less often, a dream of helping others.

Englishmen produce dreams of glory, Irishmen dreams of beauty. Bachelors over 40 make their contribution too: The pseudo-security dream with the nightmare kicker.

BUT THE master dreamer of them all is the one who can promise a woman a supremely dangerous adventure — with an inspired happy ending.

"I am called" said just such a man, "a white hunter. I promise that if you come with me to the Belgian Congo, I will give you the greatest thrill of your life. You will face lions and leopards and elephants and the most treacherous beast of them all—the buffalo."

YOU WILL sleep under the moon, and eat the finest French Congolese cuisine and be as primitive as you like, for as long as you like. And at the end, when you want to get back to civilization after the great adventure of your life, you will be — he paused effectively — alive. Not only just alive, but more alive than ever before.

The white hunter, who builds these dreams of "aliveness" to a jaded world, is named Chris Pollett. He is 28, Belgian and charming. His business is organizing and conducting safaris.

WHEN STILL in his teens, Chris lived of city living and retired into the brush of the Congo, near the famous "Mountains of the Moon." He decided to make a living breeding crocodiles, but five years ago a herd of elephants tripped undaintly over his hatcheries and put him out of business.

So, because he was a little annoyed at elephants and more than a little broke, he became the first white hunter in the Congo. Right now he's in the U.S. for the first time for two reasons. To see his TV debut on "High Adventure with Lowell Thomas" Dec. 6, and to round up Americans for a January safari.

"EXCEPT FOR Mr. Thomas, who look safari with me to get his film, I haven't had any Easterners," he said. "Mostly they come from Texas, and Montana and Illinois."

"They are more careful than the European about their health, but they bore up very nicely, all of them. And the American woman is a splendid sport. Why shouldn't she be? She knows she's safe."

"I have never lost a customer yet" except in the bars after the hunts were over.

POLLETT describes life in the Congo, where the pygmies are shy and the big game is bold, as the perfect therapy for the businessman and wife.

"We get up very early, before the sun breaks, and by 6 o'clock we have bagged our game or taken pictures of it. If it's a camera safari and return to camp for a hot bath, a long cold drink and dinner."

"After dinner, a long siesta, and then about 4 we go off to hunt till sundown. Then another bath, more drinks, supper and big arguments about whose buffalo is bigger."

CHRIS IS FULL of fascinating stories of elephants. "The more you see them, the more you admire them," antelope "lovable and fleet", buffalo "some are real man-killers", lions "incredibly fast, hard to hit" and his associate hunter "tall, dark and handsome."

Possibly in explanation of why safaris are made up of more Texans than residents of any other state, he said the cost is around $30 a day, plus air fare to the Congo. And the person who can face that without blinking should stare down a buffalo with no strain.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK — Romance is made by the heart behind it. Love has a focus.

The first focus usually changes, happily sometimes for the better.

Yet there is a saying that first love is best. This may be true. Certainly it is true in a way.

Oh, I'll never forget her though time has—the remorseless fugitive hungering girl that keeps a man a memory—and a girl a regret.

My first love!

SHE HAD THE most ridiculous name a girl could wear. Her name was Nadine Philpott.

Her age was about six, and she waited across the stage with the grace of Pavlova in flower.

One watching her, particularly if he were five, was swept by the mysterious thunder of life. He was immortally in love with a girl up there on the stage—and he would never get over it.

There as Nadine twinkled her uncertain toes I felt in love with her and the stage for all my life.

On the same stage a fellow came up and suspended himself between two supports and let them put a boulder atop his middle, and by invitation men came up and with sledge hammers beat the boulder into rocks.

The performance lacked the delicacy of Nadine, whom I had known in school. She was my lollipop Theda Bara.

Time, that prisoner of dream and the sedulous washer-away of what was, has eroded but cannot destroy the magic of that night.

He with the strong stomach, years and broken boulder later. Where he is now?

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — In his sleep, Harold Stassen has a recurrent dream of being coaxed back to Washington by a new Republican President, but when he awakes to cold reality, he has uncanny flashes of intuition that the dream will not come to pass if the new Republican President is Richard M. Nixon.

There are numerous GOP politicians, not excluding the Vice President, who wish Childs Harold would spend more time in slumber because, paradoxically, his waking moments are likely to be nightmarish to the Grand Old Party.

Many Republican leaders try to pretend there is no such creature as Stassen—that he is merely a figment of their tortured imaginations—but he dispels this by stepping on their corns so smartly they know he can't be ectoplasm.

STASSEN has a number of reasons for yearning to return to the nation's capital. One is that he does not revel in obscurity—and when Harold isn't holding public office, or making public trouble, he is obscure to the point of invisibility. It's easy to see through him.

But he has another reason for desiring to rejoin us that is more material. During his sojourn here he made the accidental discovery that he is a real estate genius.

He bought a house in nearby Montgomery County, Md., for $47,000, and when he was dumped by the Administration he sold it for $63,000. Apparently great real estate salesmanship was involved because the purchaser is now grousing about having paid too much, and is also calling upon heaven to witness his double persecution because Montgomery County is threatening to raise his assessment.

Stassen probably figures that if he can get back to Washington he can buy another house and sell it at a nice profit when he is thrown out again. He would seem to be reasonably sure of a quick turnover. It is doubtful if any President of his own party, even if not named Nixon, would insist upon holding him too long.

A GREAT MANY of our Republican and Democratic grande dames sank political differences recently to raise funds for the Home for Incurables. A luncheon gala was staged, with tickets at $12.50 each.

Mrs. Lawrence Wood Robert, wife of former Democratic national treasurer "Chip" Robert, took $100 worth. By malign fate, she made out a check on a bank branch in which her spouse has a staggering balance, but she not a dime.

A few days later, she received a phone call from Mrs. H. Struve Hensel, treasurer of the fund-raising drive. The following non-partisan dialogue ensued:

Mrs. Hensel: "Good morning, Evie. The most amusing thing has occurred."

Mrs. Robert: "Oh, do tell me dear. I need something amusing to cheer me up."

Mrs. Hensel: "Your check bounced."

Mrs. Robert: "Why, but that's impossible, my dear. I still have some money."

Mrs. Hensel: "Possibly. But not in branch of the bank on which your check is written."

The fiscal matter finally was straightened out, but Mrs. Robert would just as soon her check hadn't bounced into the hands of the Missus of the former Assistant Secretary of Defense, a militant Republican who suspects all Democrats.

SENATOR GEORGE W. Malone has received a morsel of satisfaction for his defeat in Nevada—this communication from Assistant Secretary of State William B. Macomber Jr.:

"Dear Senator: We are pleased to inform you that your constituent named in the enclosed announcement has been awarded a grant under the international education program."

Senator Malone investigated and found the recipient was Dr. E. Gerald Meyer, Ph.D., of Las Vegas—but not an ungrateful Nevada. Dr. Meyer lives in Las Vegas, New Mexico.

Early Delivery of Gift Appliances Doubly Appreciated

Surprise Nice, But Try This

To surprise her or not? That's the question if you're planning on making it a White Christmas for your wife by giving her an electric home freezer.

There are good arguments on both sides of the question — and if you're one of those individuals who thinks that surprise is a vital ingredient of any gift, then don't read any further.

But if you're undecided about whether to surprise your wife on Christmas morning with an electric freezer, you might want to consider the following points.

First, while a freezer will give her pleasure 365 days in each year, it's likely to be of special value to her in the days just before Christmas. That's particularly true if she's going to be entertaining during the holiday season — and what woman isn't planning on having guests in during this festive season.

Freezer Frees Her

An electric freezer will allow her to prepare whole meals as well as party snacks well in advance. Then her time just before Christmas can be devoted to those really last-minute preparations — trimming the tree, decorating the house, and last-minute cleaning.

With the children home from school she's likely to find it extremely convenient to freeze their luncheon, sandwiches and between-meal snacks in advance. Then she won't have to interrupt her other activities to prepare these meals for the youngsters.

And if your wife is planning on having the family in for Christmas dinner she couldn't ask for a better servant to lighten her work than a home freezer. A whole host of holiday dishes can be prepared in advance and then frozen, to be taken out of the freezer only minutes before the meal is to be put on the table. At a moment like this the lady of the house is particularly disposed to bless her new freezer and the man who gave it to her.

There's one other equally practical reason for eliminating the surprise element in the gift of a freezer. You may never have thought of it in these terms but an electric freezer is a "personal" gift for a woman. Personal because the freezer is such a versatile product that each woman is likely to decide that it has a particular value for her.

Consult Your Wife

Here's an example. One obvious use of a freezer is to freeze fresh crops in season. If your wife is likely to want to do this you'll have to take it into consideration in selecting the proper size unit.

Or consider the matter of convenience. Today's glamorous electric freezers are a far cry from those first boxy, utilitarian units. Today your wife can pick between a chest type or an up-

JUST LIKE A SUPERMARKET IN HER HOME

Modern electric freezers give today's homemaker undreamed-of convenience and flexibility in meal preparation. Among the freezer's advantages are fewer shopping trips, and the opportunity to prepare dishes — and even whole meals — days or weeks in advance. In addition there are real savings opportunities when you buy seasonally-plentiful lower-cost foods and in large quantity purchases.

right. She can choose the particular arrangement of shelves and baskets which best suits her requirements.

Then, too, your wife is very likely to have definite plans about her kitchen. She may have a new color scheme or a new arrangement of appliances in the back of her mind. If so, she'll obviously want to make her new electric freezer conform to her new plans and make it the first step in modernizing the kitchen.

So you see there are definite advantages to telling your wife in on the secret if you're planning a freezer for her White Christmas.

And even though she has helped pick out the unit she wants and has been using it for a whole week before Christmas you can make it something special on Christmas morning by having hidden a gift-wrapped delicacy for her in the new electric freezer. It might be a special seafood, or a frozen gourmet meal or something for her sweet tooth. Whatever it is, it's a good way

Supermarket in Home

Finally, remember that the initial surprise of receiving a freezer is only the first of many surprises a modern freezer will provide. Day after day the lucky lady is likely to find new delights and new advantages in having a supermarket in her own home. Each time she saves a step — or a penny — she's likely to be surprised and delighted anew with her freezer.

Good Supply Of Hot Water Essential In Home

How about giving your wife plenty of hot water for Christmas? Today's homemaker likes to be in hot water. As a matter of fact, lack of an adequate supply of hot water spells nothing but trouble for the modern housewife. That's because more and more appliances depend on a good supply of hot water to produce their full labor-saving potential. Consider the automatic dishwasher which requires water of 180 to 190 degrees to deliver all the benefits it can provide. Water that hot is needed not only to get food soil off the dishes but to kill any bacteria or germs which may be present on the dishes. To provide an adequate and over-ready supply of water as hot as this you can choose between a wide variety of modern electric water heaters.

Electric Devices Have New Look

There's a "new look" in appliances, too.

While dress designers have been using the new look in women's fashions to conceal mid-lady's lines in voluminous skirts, chemises and balloons, appliance designers have moved in just the opposite direction.

They've slimmed down the lines of today's labor-saving electric appliances, squaring off corners to come up with a built-in look. The result: you can give your kitchen a modern, functional appearance without having to replace free-standing appliances with built-ins.

Nor is the shape the only thing which has been changed. Whole concepts of design and application have come in for a long second look by engineers and today's electric appliances have a versatility unknown in previous years.

Freezer As Example

Take the home freezer for example. Once it was a boxy chest-type unit. Today we still have chest-type freezers but their lines have been streamlined and new racks and baskets added to the interior to make their use even easier.

In addition to the chest freezer we now have upright models which save valuable floor space. That's a factor in your planning. There are also under-counter models and wall-hung and built-in types.

Thus, where once there was a single type of freezer, today there's a whole family of models available. You can give her her choice.

Much the same thing has happened to that most familiar of all appliances, the electric refrigerator. The conventional, free-standing model has had its corners squared off so that you can achieve a built-in look if you desire. Or you can buy refrigeration in built-in or wall-hung models.

No matter what type you choose you can combine refrigerated space with a freezer.

Indeed, the continually growing popularity of refrigerator-freezer combinations is one of the most significant design trends in modern kitchen planning. From a variety of models available you can pick the unit best suited to your needs, with the bulk of the space devoted to either freezer or refrigerator space, whichever you prefer.

Even Free Standing

Everyone is familiar with the built-in range which several years ago provided range designers with a "new look." Now, even the free-standing range has been redesigned and it's hardly surprising that these conventional units too have a built-in "look."

Cleaning Up

Modern electric refrigerators are easy to keep clean but here's a tip. Be sure to wipe up spills at once before they've had a chance to harden and require scrubbing.

Still another way of achieving this style is with the new "stack-on" ranges which can be hung on the wall or mounted on a kitchen cabinet.

That's why giving a modern appliance is such a pleasure. Not only can you select the type of features you want but you can also get them in just the "package" which will fit your own needs best.

Father Of Three Crushed By Tree

Garland R. Feaster, 36, Of Beryl, Killed While Driving Tractor

A 36-year-old Beryl, W. Va., man was killed instantly this morning when he was struck by a falling tree on Backbone Mountain about two miles west of Bloomington.

Crushed to death in the accident was Garland Ray Feaster, who was working on a timber cutting operation with a son, 17-year-old James R. Feaster.

The son told authorities that he and his father had saved almost through a 45-foot hickory tree, and his father had mounted a tractor to pull the tree down.

Tree Hits Tractor

The tree glanced off another standing tree and fell onto the tractor, killing Mr. Feaster instantly. The son managed to get his father off the vehicle and then drove to Savage River Inn to place a call for authorities. Time of the fatal accident was approximately 9 a. m.

Born in Maysville, W. Va., a son of Dayton and Pearl (Berg) Feaster, he had resided at Beryl 18 years. Mr. Feaster had been employed at the Luke Mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company three years and ran a timber cutting operation as a sideline.

Leaves Three Children

A veteran of World War II, he held membership in Kelly-Mansfield Post 52, American Legion of Piedmont, and Maysville Chapter of the Brethren.

Surviving, besides his son and parents, are his widow, Mrs. Dorothy M. (Tranum) Feaster; another son, Dennis K. Feaster; a daughter, Carolyn Sue Feaster; at home; three brothers; Staff Sgt. Lorraine Feaster; Port George G. Meade; Charles Feaster, RD 4, Swanton; and Donald Feaster, Maysville, and a sister, Mrs. Hazel Goldstein, Maysville. The body is at the Beal Funeral Home, Westport.

Tickets for either, or both of the events may be obtained from Willard E. Miller, Hubert B. Fresh, James A. Morgan, Theodore E. Rice, Howard W. Zais and Edward T. Evans Jr.

Guardsman Gets Top NCO Award

Master Sgt. William C. Northcraft has been awarded the NCO of Year Award by the local National Guard.

Sgt. Northcraft has been a member of the local guard since 1947 and has gone from private to master sergeant in this time. He entered the service in 1942 and had three years overseas duty before being discharged in 1945. He was awarded four battle stars and six campaign ribbons—good conduct, European Theatre, Victory Ribbon, Asiatic Pacific Theatre and the American Defense.

He also holds the Maryland Reserve Medal for ten years service in the guard and is an expert marksman rifleman.

He is the father of five children, William Jr., Vickie Christen, Vilot Marie, Mickey Lee and John Edgar Northcraft.

B&O Railroad Directors Vote Extra Dividend

While wage increases total $32,000,000 a year, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad was able to effect economies amounting to 25-cent quarterly basis.

$54,000,000 and declare an extra dividend of 5 cents a common share of stock.

Howard E. Simpson, president, reported major developments on the railroad during the current year at a meeting of the board of directors in Baltimore.

Stockholders were informed that wage increases since 1956 have lifted B&O payroll costs to $32,000,000. Prices of materials have risen by $1,800,000 on an annual basis since last July.

During the year the B&O president said, employment was substantially reduced with a saving of $48,000,000 in payroll costs for the ten-month period.

Another annual saving of $6,000,000 will be effected through discontinuance of unprofitable passenger trains and consolidation of lightly patronized trains.

The extra payment of 5 cents a share will increase total dividends for 1958 to $1.50 a share. The board at the same time recorded dates are February 20, liberalized the 1959 dividend by $1.50 a share for pay-

City Records Top Building Gain In State

Local Valuation Up Nearly Million From 1957 Figures

The value of building permits issued in Cumberland during the first ten months of this year was a larger gain over the same period of 1957 than was registered by any other city in Maryland outside of Baltimore.

The gain was close to a million dollars, statistics show, since the value of building permits through October was placed at $2,222,062, compared to $1,551,250 for the same period last year.

Building permits issued last month were valued at $54,800; also a gain over the $52,436 valuation made of permits issued in October of 1957. The permits were issued for 88 new construction units, 54 for additions and improvements and seven for moving structures.

All the larger cities in Maryland, with the exception of Hagerstown, registered gains in building permits during the 10-month period of this year.

Valuations of permits issued in Hagerstown for that period totaled $2,423,834, compared to $3,879,973 in the first ten months of last year.

Mt. Savage Man Facing Many Counts

Police Of Two States, FBI, Seek Witt's Custody

A Mt. Savage man, Robert H. Witt, 29, is in trouble "up to his neck" with authorities in Maryland and Pennsylvania.

Silent, watchful waiting in the stakeout of a stolen car have paid off for Bedford police when they arrested Witt who has been arrested and convicted nine times since March 2, 1949 and who is on parole with the Maryland House of Correction.

The young Mt. Savage man was nabbed in Bedford as he attempted to start a stolen car that had eluded police there earlier last week.

Has Long Record

Police Chief Earl McGill of Bedford said Witt has a record "a mile long" and is wanted in Bedford, Johnstown, by the FBI and by Maryland State Police at Cumberland.

Local police want the Mt. Savage man for questioning in connection with a breaking and entering at a gasoline station near Corrigansville Sunday, November 9. He has already admitted to Bedford police that he broke into the service station and stole five automobiles, three, a half box of cigars, two cans of oil and $6.84.

Witt, who has spent more than three years in the Maryland House of Correction, led Bedford police on a merry chase before being arrested last Thursday.

The myriad of events began early last week when State Trooper F. R. Palmeri became suspicious of a car parked in front of his residence in Bedford.

Vehicle Stolen

While police checked the registration number to find out if the car was stolen, the vehicle disappeared. It was discovered the vehicle was stolen from Eugene Reffner, of RD 2, Johnstown.

The car reappeared in front of the trooper's home the next day and Bedford police began a 24-hour vigil on the vehicle.

Early the following day Trooper Palmeri nabbed Witt as he attempted to start the car. He later admitted stealing the vehicle.

The Mt. Savage man also admitted to Bedford authorities that he broke into and burglarized the House of God Church in Hagerstown, the same church whose leaders begged for Witt's parole in a Maryland court. He then joined the church, according to informed sources.

Burglarized Church

Witt has been charged with breaking into the office of the church on October 27, burglarizing the place and driving off in the truck belonging to the church.

The truck was driven by Witt to Harrisburg, a violation of the Dyer Act, which resulted in the FBI issuing a pickup on the Mt. Savage man.

Further investigation revealed that Witt previously served time in an Ohio prison for transporting a stolen car across state lines. At that time Witt was picked up in Columbus, Ohio, under the alias name of Frederick Clarence Schreengost Jr., and was later paroled after serving part of a sentence of two to 20 years.

At the present time the Mt. Savage man is being held by authorities in Johnstown. At noon today it could not be determined who would get first crack at the man when Johnstown is finished with him, the Maryland State Police or the FBI agents.

Local Case Before State Appeals Court

The Maryland Court of Appeals today heard arguments in an appeal brought by an employer and insurance company from a decision in Allegany County Circuit Court here in a Workman's Compensation Commission claim.

Simon F. Reilly and Milton Gerson are attorneys for Davis while William H. Goyette represents the insurance firm.

Davis was granted compensation for injuries to his back while employed at a garage operated by Dayton.

Negotiations Of PP, Union At Standstill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The president of the United Glass and Ceramics Workers says there are no plans for any immediate reopening of negotiations with the struck Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. Talks were broken off Oct. 30.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass and Liberty-Owens-Ford, two of the nation's largest makers of auto glass, were struck by the union last month.

L-O-F signed a new contract with the union Oct. 25. But 13,000 PPG workers are still out in plants around the country.

Union President Ralph Reiser met with local presidents yesterday to discuss strike strategy. At the conclusion of the meeting he told reporters there is strong support of the strike among union members.

One of the principal stumbling blocks in the proposed new contract is a company insistence upon reclassifying certain workers' duties.

Four-Ton Steeple Set For Hoist Into Place

The tricky and dangerous task of hoisting a four-ton prefabricated iron steeple 70 feet onto the new St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Washington Street was being planned today at noon.

Workmen of the Hazelwood Construction Company were in no hurry to hoist away as a brisk wind came up and stresses and strains had to be carefully figured before any move is made.

Prior to the hoisting of the steeple, which is 48 feet long, workmen applied treated timbers to the iron work.

On this base a 16-gauge white steeple porcelain will be applied once the steeple is securely in place.

From the floor of the church building to the tip of the steeple it will be 118 feet.

110-foot boom on a power crane is being used in the hoisting job. Guy wires will be needed in controlling the movement of the heavy steeple during the hoisting work.

Use Wood Guides
Meanwhile, workmen were starting to place under roof the fellowship building of the church.

The Cumberland Fair Association will entertain workers who took part in the handling of the fair in August at a dinner meeting today at 8:30 p. m. at the LaVale Fire Hall.

Harry Barton, general manager of the fair, said the group will discuss matters pertaining to the fair this year and also improvements which could be made in the next year's event. About 40 persons will attend.

Church Sets Observance Of 50th Year

Emmanuel Methodist Services Scheduled For This Sunday

Emmanuel Methodist Church, Humboldt Street, will celebrate its 50th anniversary with two services and a luncheon Sunday, according to Rev. Harold R. McClay Sr.

At 11 a. m., Dr. Earl N. Berg, erstwhile of York, Pa., will deliver the sermon and the choir will present a program adapted for the service.

A covered dish luncheon for members of the church will be held at 1 p. m. in the social room.

At 3 p. m., Dr. Paul F. Warner, superintendent of the Hagerstown District of the Methodist Church, will speak.

Rev. Edward Clupp, pastor of First Methodist Church, and Mrs. Clupp will play several selections and will also lead congregational singing.

The oldest members of the church, both in years and membership, will be honored guests and will receive recognition.

Cyclone Destroys Chapel
Fifty years ago the church had its beginning with the small Agur Chapel. Agur means "galterer or assembler." Rev. Mr. McClay, said but some members of the church suggested that the word could have meant "having withstood so many difficulties."

In August 1900, the little Agur Chapel was blown off its base and demolished when a cyclone hit it.

From the wreckage was gathered and assembled materials for a new building. Rev. Mr. McClay said, it was named Emmanuel, which means "God with us," he observed.

Then in 1937, the congregation had the church built in 1900 raised. A basement was constructed beneath it and an addition was placed on the rear.

Champion Steer Goes On Block Today

TIMONIUM, Md. (AP) — Duke, 1,125 pounds of top champion at the Eastern National Livestock Show, goes on the auction block today.

Indications are Gregory Arzl, 10-year-old owner of the prize Aberdeen-Angus steer, will get several thousand dollars for the animal.

Duke captured the grand champion award for the entire show yesterday after winning two other honors en route. He was judged best Aberdeen-Angus exhibited and then named grand champion of all steers in the division for 4-H and FFA exhibitors.

It was the first big show Gregory, who is a fifth grader in Cecil County, had ever entered.

Runnerup honors went to a steer entered by Penn State University. It was a shorthorn judged grand champion of the open division and reserve grand champion of the show.

Among the prices paid yesterday was a whopping $5.65 a pound for a 1,230-pound barrow. The huge hog was exhibited by C. R. Galbreath & Sons of Street, Md., and purchased by William Schludermann, T. J. Kurdie Co.

A travel survey by the Census Bureau indicated that Americans took 231 million trips of more than 100 miles during 1957, each of which lasted an average of five and a half days.

Woman Draws Seven-Year Prison Term

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Charlotte Lee Harrison, 24, Trappe, Md., accused with a man and another woman in a Sept. 10 robbery of the Calvert (Tex.) State Bank, drew a seven-year prison sentence yesterday.

The trio pleaded guilty Monday and U. S. Dist. Judge Joe Ingraham then sentenced the other two for their roles in the $20,000 hold-up. He fixed the third penalty after considering a plea for a suspended term on overnight. The Harrison woman was charged with transporting stolen money.

William David Crismon, 21, who held up the bank, was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

Alta Mae Bookukos, 31, Atlanta, Ga., was sentenced to seven years for receiving $2,000 of the stolen money.

BI agents said a large part of the loot was found when the women were arrested in Atlanta and the man in Denver.

Honor Guard Try Rankles State Vets

BALTIMORE (AP) — An 83-year-old veteran of three wars was buried at Baltimore National Cemetery yesterday but the difficulty in getting an honor guard for him rankled a group of veterans.

J. W. McAvoy, administrative assistant to the Veteran of Foreign War's commander in Maryland, said "We're very much perturbed over this situation." He added that letters of protest would be sent to the Maryland congressional delegation and the secretary of defense.

The veteran laid to rest was Henry W. Niels. He served first in the Spanish American War, with the Navy in World War I, and at the age of 69 with the Merchant Marine in World War II. He retired in 1945 as a commander. Niels' survivors were told last week that the Navy maintained no regular burial delay. They enlisted the aid of a VFW commander.

Cdr. Charles W. Gantz of the Sgt. Frank T. Vanik Post No. 492 tried several nearby military installations without success and finally got in touch with the Navy Department in Washington. The Navy assured him an honor guard would be sent to the services.

Expert Stock Buyers Turn To Cyclical

Investment Companies Turn Activities From Defensive Issues

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — The experts who do the buying and selling for the giant investment companies have turned to cyclical issues away from defensive stocks.

Cyclical companies are those whose earnings rise and fall with the business cycle — such as steels, rails, electrical equipments and automobiles. Defensive issues are those of companies whose business holds up in times of recession, such as the food industry, utilities and the like.

This change, considered highly significant in financial circles, is brought out by A. Wilfred May, executive editor of "The Commercial and Financial Chronicle." In the current issue, May analyzes the activities of the giant funds in the third quarter, '58.

The change to cyclical issues would seem to be a vote of confidence in the recovery which has carried the Federal Reserve production index from 126 per cent of the 1947-49 average in April — the bottom of the recession — to 138 in October with prospect of a much sharper rise now, that some semblance of labor peace has come into the automobile industry.

The type of stocks purchased also produces some interesting conclusions.

The most popular issues bought by the funds were Royal Dutch which is a big factor in Middle East Operations. This could mean the funds are convinced there will be no eruption in that area of uncertainty.

Other favorites in the order in which the funds accumulated were Republic Steel, General Motors, Standard Oil (N.J.), U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Southern Pacific, and Texas Co. Though General Motors dominated the auto purchases, Ford and Chrysler received attention. This may indicate that the funds think the auto industry is going to have a good market for its new models. Production is being stepped up now that most of the strikes have been settled.

Also with autos in better demand, the steel industry is given a good rating by the funds.

They also have their favorites in other lines — cement in the building equipment department, electricals and electronics, airlines, coals, drugs, papers, rails and textiles.

The U. S. is spending $6,000,000,000 during the current fiscal year on missiles and space flight, compared with $2,500,000,000 on atomic energy.

Suspect Trio In Robbery Back In Jail

CAMBRIDGE (AP) — Police have completed a week of questioning four men accused of the $102,000 Wingate, Md., safe-cracking but haven't come up with a cent of the money.

"We still have hopes of locating the money," State's Atty. Gen. Burnham Mace said yesterday as three of the defendants were returned here to the Dorchester County Jail.

The trio, handcuffed and grasping little bundles of belongings, hid behind newspapers to avoid cameramen trying to photograph them as they were taken from a police car to the jail.

Those lodged back here after questioning at the Eastern State Police Barracks were Stephano Glaros, 32, of Harundale, Eugene B. Hurley, 32, and Donald Wersten, 37, both of Baltimore.

The fourth man, Rufus W. Ruark, 30-year-old Cambridge resident, had been returned here from Easton last Saturday.

Victim of the burglary early Nov. 8 was George O. Powley, who operated a general store and sea-food packing business at Wingate in Dorchester County.

The case will go to the grand jury next month. Attorneys for the defendants have not asked for a preliminary hearing yet.

Marlboro College in Vermont, with an enrollment of 50 girls, claims to be the smallest liberal arts college in the nation.

Rev. Baker, Once Noted Circuit Rider, Expires

BALTIMORE (AP) — Funeral services will be held tomorrow for the Rev. E. Cookman Baker, a native of Queen Anne's County who was a Methodist circuit rider before the turn of the century.

Baker died Monday at a nursing home near Millersville, Md., after a long illness. He was 85.

Baker served both Baptist and Methodist parishes in Maryland and conducted evangelical camp meetings along the East Coast from Canada to Georgia before his retirement 30 years ago.

A native of Centerville, he was educated in Baltimore public schools and later at the Moody Institute in Chicago.

As a circuit rider, he served six scattered parishes in Western Maryland near Harpers Ferry, W. Va., and traveled from one to another on horseback with saddle bags crammed with hymn books.

During the 1920s, he returned to the Eastern Shore as pastor of the Ridgely Baptist Church in Caroline County. A few years later he became pastor of the First Baptist Church, Overlea.

During these years, he gained publicity by refusing to marry divorced persons. He suggested that civil ceremonies rather than church weddings should be the only recourse for divorced persons wishing to remarry.

His evangelistic journeys up and down the coast were some-

Boeing Plans Record Try On Air Route

BALTIMORE (AP) — American Airlines says it will attempt a transcontinental record Friday with a Boeing 707 flying from Los Angeles to Baltimore.

Friday's flight will attempt to cover a 2,371-mile distance in about four hours, 15 minutes, the spokesman said.

Critic Types Hit In Talk By McKeldin

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The nation must move forward with firmness and flexibility in its governmental setup, Gov. McKeldin of Maryland said last night.

The Republican governor, speaking at a meeting of the Duquesne Club of Pittsburgh, declared there are two kinds of thinking harmful to that progressive growth.

One, he said, is exemplified in the person who is dissatisfied with the foundations on which the United States was built — the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.

Such a critic "will not add anything of value to the fabric of American government," he said, adding that the nation must be firm to resist that line of reasoning.

Another dangerous type, McKeldin said, is the person who contends that all the nation's liberty was settled and determined forever in the two basic documents. He added that the U. S. must grow within that basic framework to be flexible and mold our needs to the times.

Blame Kidding In Man's Death

MAGERSTOWN (AP)—Kidding a train engineer over his forthcoming retirement, police say, apparently led to the fatal shooting of another engineer.

L. J. E. Phyllis of the Western Maryland Railway police said investigation of the murder of James R. Cuddy, Jr., 41, showed that the shooting apparently stemmed from kidding that "younger engineers gave the older men about to retire."

Cuddy was slain last Saturday. James T. Hanley, 48, charged with murder, is to be given a preliminary hearing tomorrow or Thursday. Both men are Western Maryland engineers.

Annapolis To Observe Its 250th Birthday

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Lord Lighthead, Lady Mary Magpie, Gov. John B. Bayne and a host of other characters from the historical past will revisit Annapolis this weekend.

Saturday will be the 250th official birthday of Maryland's capital city and Annapolitans are planning to break out costumes and wigs to make it a colorful party. The celebration starts Friday and continues through Sunday.

The program includes a reenactment of the charter ceremony, a costume ball at the State House, two evening performances of a colonial play, fireworks, exhibits and a demonstration of old-time sporting events.

Restaurants plan to serve colonial meals, and costumed merchants participating in the city-sponsored celebration will dress their windows with colonial displays.

Royal Governor John Seymour, who gave the city its charter of incorporation in 1708, will be on hand in the person of Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, Maryland's chief executive will slip into colonial costume to present the original document all over again to Mayor Arthur G. Ellington, representing Mayor Amos Garrett, in ceremonies at noon Saturday.

Lord Lighthead and Lady Mary Magpie are characters in an 18th Century farce who haven't trod the boards in this country since 1804. They were well known to Annapolis in its younger days and will be seen again in the two-act play, "Appearance Is Against Them," to be presented by the Colonial Players Friday and Saturday evenings.

The play will be the first stage presentation in St. John's College's new Francis Scott Key Auditorium, part of a $2,500,000 complex of modern buildings.

Officials and a citizens committee which planned the celebration have made up a program consisting mostly of free events. However, nominal fees will be charged for walking tours conducted by Historic Annapolis Inc., visits of the Brice House, Chase-Lloyd House and Hammond-Harwood House, and for the colonial play. Play tickets are $1.

Admission is free to the ball at the State House Saturday evening but guests must be in colonial costume.

Second Phase Of Dynamite Job Underway

TANGIER ISLAND, Va. (AP)—Navy salvagers are in the second phase of operation dynamite, trying to blow an old ship into pieces so it won't endanger shipping in Chesapeake Bay.

They hope to finish their chore on the battleship San Marcos by the end of the week, a spokesman said Monday.

Navy men from the U. S. S. Salvager have been setting off tons of explosives in the side of the rusty old warrior, which has laid here since 1921. At that time, Gen. Billy Mitchell bombed the San Marcos to the bottom to prove effectiveness of air power.

Since then at least seven shipwrecks have been attributed to the wreck which projects up to within a few inches of the surface.

East Side PTA To Meet Tomorrow

East Side Parent-Teacher Association will meet tomorrow at the school. Teachers will be in their rooms from 7:30 to 8 p. m.

Dr. Baer is first vice president of District 1 of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers.

LSU, Auburn, Oklahoma Favored Saturday

Notre Dame Underdog In Clash With Iowa Hawks

NEW YORK (UPI)—Louisiana State, Auburn and Oklahoma are heavy favorites to extend their assorted streaks in Saturday's major college football games.

The oddsmakers made top-ranked LSU a 14-point favorite to defeat Tulane and end the season with a perfect record while third-ranked Auburn was an 18-point choice to run its unbeaten string to 23 games at the expense of Wake Forest.

Sooners Top Favorite

Oklahoma, ranked fourth nationally, once again was the biggest favorite in this week's "line." The Sooners were picked to wallop Nebraska by at least 32 points and clinch their 12th straight undisputed Big Eight conference championship.

Four games were rated toss-ups, including the key Southwest Conference clash between Rice and eighth-ranked Texas Christian and the Ivy League showdown between Dartmouth and Princeton. The other "pick 'em" games are Kentucky vs. Tennessee and Northwestern vs. Illinois.

Sixth-ranked Iowa, the Big Ten champion, was listed as a six-point choice over Notre Dame in the nationally-televised game-of-the-week.

The remaining members of the UPI top 10 were picked to win by at least two touchdowns. Fifth-ranked Purdue was 15 over Indiana, and ninth-ranked Ohio State was 14 over Michigan.

No Odds On Air Force

No odds were being quoted on the game between the 10th-ranked Air Force Academy and New Mexico. Second-ranked Army will rest this week for its climactic meeting with Navy Nov. 23.

Here are the point-spreads on other leading Saturday games:

INTERSECTIONAL: Clemson 7 over Boston College at Clemson, S.C.; Holy Cross 17 over Marquette at Worcester, Mass.

EAST: Syracuse 8 over West Virginia, Boston University 12 over Connecticut, Harvard 12 over Yale, Rutgers 10 over Columbia.

MIDWEST: Missouri 7 over Kansas, Michigan State 14 over Kansas State.

SOUTH: North Carolina 6 over Duke, Florida 7 over Florida State, Maryland 10 over Virginia, South Carolina 10 over North Carolina State.

SOUTHWEST: Arkansas 10 over Texas Tech, Southern Methodist 12 over Baylor, Arizona State 8 over Arizona.

ROCKIES: Brigham Young 6 over Wyoming, Colorado 15 over Colorado State.

PACIFIC COAST: California 12 over Stanford, Oregon State 6 over Oregon, Southern California 7 over UCLA, Washington State 8 over Washington.

Officials Named For Contests On Thanksgiving

Officials have been named for the city championship football game between Fort Hill and Allegany on Turkey Day at the stadium a week from tomorrow with Newton Anderson, principal of Buckhannon (W. Va.) High School serving for the 23th straight year.

Anderson first worked here in 1946 with Art Ward and Fred "Chick" Wehl, of Weston. Wehl had officiated here for 12 consecutive years but will be unable to make it this season.

Art Goldschien, of Salem College, comes here for the sixth straight year and will be referee in the 23rd annual game between the city rivals.

William Kafer, of Glenville College, will serve as an official for the third straight year. The fourth arbiter will be Richard Young, of Morris Harvey College, Charleston.

The first Fort Hill-Allegany Thanksgiving Day game was staged at Community Park in 1936 and the officials were Arthur G. Ramey, John McDonald and "Bek" Miers. The first holiday game at Fort Hill Stadium in 1937 was handled by Ramey, McDonald, Art Slocum and "Bid" Schwarzkopf.

Dr. Lloyd Jones, of Penn State, Sal Baker and Jack Young, out-of-town officials, were here for the 1938 game, the only one that was postponed due to a snowstorm. It was staged on the night of Tuesday, November 30.

John R. Shelton, Hubert Feeney, Roy Manges and Jim Roby are the officials named for the LaSalle-Beall game in Frostburg on Thanksgiving Day.

Both contests will get under way at 1:30 p. m.

BACK OF WEEK—Bruising Bob White, Ohio State University's 210-pound fullback, was named Back of the Week today. White, a 20-year-old junior from Covington, Ky., amassed 209 yards in 33 carries and scored three touchdowns in OSU's 33-28 triumph over Iowa last Saturday. (AP Photofax)

Ohio State's Bob White Named 'Back Of Week'

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob White, Ohio State's fullback, has been named The Associated Press Back of the Week by the nation's sports writers and sportscasters for his strong performance against Iowa.

The 210-pounder hammered the Iowa defenses for 209 yards on 33 carries while scoring three touchdowns in Ohio State's 33-28 victory. He bore the brunt of the attack lugging the ball on 11 of 14 plays during the decisive 61-yard touchdown march.

Clark Also Stars

White had to share the glory with Don Clark who carried 15 times for 152 yards although neither matched the yardage total of the losers' Randy Duncan, who made 246 yards net with a passing barrage.

Several other collegians received support in the balloting.

Pete Dawkins, Army's fleet halfback, scored three times in a 26-0 victory over Villanova. He broke open a scoreless game with an 88-yard punt return, raced 46 yards with a Joe Caldwell pass on a great exhibition of faking. Another 48-yard pass play from Caldwell brought the ball to the 5 from where Dawkins took it over.

Charley Millshead, a doubtful starter for Texas A&M against Rice because of a knee injury, played 50 minutes, passed for a touchdown and scored twice, gaining 185 yards. He also kicked 4 extra points in the 20-21 upset over the Owls.

Kapp Has Big Day

California's Joe Kapp passed and ran for 205 yards against Washington. He was 66 per cent of California's total offense.

Strong support from the South came for Alex Hawkins of South Carolina for his performance against Virginia. His running sparked Carolina's first TD drive, a 45-yard return of an interception broke a tie and his catch kept alive a march for a final TD.

Larry Naviaux, of Nebraska drew favorable mention for his 27 southpaw touchdown passes in a 14-6 upset of Pittsburgh. Pete Hart of Hardin-Simmons netted 125 yards while scoring 3 touchdowns against West Texas State.

In the Ivy League area, Jake Crouthamel of Dartmouth scored 3 times and gained 150 yards in 15 carries against Cornell. Frank Finney, Brown's fine passer, scored 3 touchdowns, passed for

Alan Ameche Moves Up In Ground Race

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Cleveland's James Brown, who broke the National Football League's ground gaining record last Sunday, has averaged better than 145 yards a game.

Brown surged 152 yards as Cleveland beat Washington 20-10. It brought his season total to 1,163 yards, 17 more than Philadelphia's Steve Van Buren's record of 1,146 set in 1949. Only in his seventh game has Brown gone below 153 yards a game and then he went 83.

Brown has averaged 6.5 yards on each of his 179 attempts and has 4 more games to play. His longest run was 62 yards and a touchdown.

The Cleveland whiz is within one touchdown of Van Buren's record of 18 TD's scored in one season.

Ninth a week ago, Baltimore's Alan Ameche gained 142 yards last week to move into second with 539 yards gained. Cleveland's Bob Mitchell didn't carry the ball once and dropped to third with 510 yards. Jim Arnett, Los Angeles, is fourth with 504 and veteran Joe Perry, San Francisco, fifth with 484.

Eddie LeBaron, Washington, continues to hold the passing lead. He has a 9.52-yard average gain. The lightest player in the NFL, he has thrown 102 passes, and completed 56 for 871 yards and 9 touchdowns.

Los Angeles' Bill Wade jumped from fifth to second place with an 8.41 average. He gained 372 yards on 42 attempts for the biggest increase in yards of the season. He has attempted 221 passes, and completed 116 for 1,858 yards and 13 touchdowns.

Lamar Meltan of the Chicago Cardinals dropped from second to third with 8.08. Baltimore's John Unitas, 14th last week, is fourth with 7.98 and Vito Parilli, Green Bay, fifth with 7.94.

Norm Van Brocklin of the Eagles has thrown the most passes, 279, and completed the most, 146. Wade has gained the most yards, 1,738, and has thrown the most TD passes, 13.

Palmer Retschlag, Philadelphia, is the pass receiving leader for the second consecutive week. He has brought in 38 to 36 for Ray Berry, Baltimore, and Clyde Conner, San Francisco.

Brown tops the league in total points scored with 102. The Chicago Bears' Willie Gailor is second with 66, Baltimore's Lennie Moore third with 60.

Again on top in punting is Washington's Sam Baker with a 45.1-yard average for 31 punts.

Arnett leads in punt returns with a 15.2-yard average. Pittsburgh's Dick Christy moved up from fourth to second with 10.7.

The kickoff leader is Leonard Lyles, Baltimore, with a 40.9-yard average. Andy Nelson, Baltimore, and Jim Patton, New York, are tied in interceptions. Each has seven.

Syracuse Must Stop WVU's Longfellow

By JACK CLARK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Reports from Miami say that Syracuse is the likely choice to oppose the Big Eight representative—most likely Oklahoma—in the Orange Bowl New Year's Day.

But at West Virginia, there's a non-poet type named Longfellow who could put the stamp of disapproval on Syracuse's post-season ambitions. He could turn the Mountaineers' 50 season into a successful one if they can defeat the Orange this Saturday.

Picks Up Mountaineers

The 21-year-old with the literary name is Dick Longfellow, senior quarterback and the Southern Conference's new offense leader. He picked up the Mountaineers' after four straight losses following an opening game victory, to three wins and a tie in their last four games.

Longfellow, a mite at 5 foot 9, has gained 1,127 yards in 9 games to overtake Virginia Tech's Bill Holsclaw, who led all season. He has completed 72 of 139 passes for 889 yards and 6 touchdowns.

Another bowl hopeful, Clemson, took a verbal prod from Coach Frank Howard as it prepped for Saturday's game with Boston College.

"They talk like they wanna go to a bowl," he said, "but now I'd like to see 'em play that way. We just don't look good at all."

Oklahoma and Nebraska, which clash Saturday to decide the Big Eight title officially, both worked on defense Tuesday.

Irish Work On Pass Defense

Notre Dame worked on pass defense for Saturday's nationally televised game with Iowa. Fullback Nick Pietrosante, hobbled in the North Carolina game, is expected to see action.

Iowa Coach Forest Evashevski moved Jeff Langston to No. 1 left end and Capt. John Nocera worked at fullback in place of the injured Dan Horn.

At North Carolina, where the Tar Heels are still hoping for a bowl bid, things were settled down today after a verbal scuffle between Tarheel Coach Jim Tatum and North Carolina Coach Earle Edwards over eligibility of N. C. State tackle Dick Reynolds.

Tatum questioned Reynolds' eligibility when he learned the sophomore had agreed to play pro ball with the Baltimore Colts.

However, this happened when Reynolds played for the Camp Lejeune Marines and his eligibility was approved by Atlantic Coast Conference Commissioner Jim Weaver.

Cavaliers' Dempsey ACC 'Soph Of Week'

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Virginia quarterback Arnold Dempsey, who turned in a tremendous exhibition of passing against South Carolina, today was named by the Associated Press as the Atlantic Coast Conference Sophomore of the Week.

Dempsey threw 32 passes, completing 19 for 249 yards, in the 28-14 loss to South Carolina.

Another sophomore who received attention last week was Maryland quarterback Dick Scarbath, who directed two touchdown drives of 74 and 77 yards in the 28-14 victory over Miami.

Dozen Seen As Starters In Futurity

BALTIMORE (AP)—A field of a dozen thoroughbreds shaped up today for the Pimlico Futurity Saturday, with announcement that E. S. Voss Jr.'s Flying Scud would make a bid for the $123,171 first place money.

The Kentucky-bred Flying Scud is a Johnny-come-lately among the two-year-olds which will vie in the mile and one sixteenth race. He did not start until July 3 and has made only seven starts.

But the last one, a victory at Pimlico five days ago, convinced Voss to start the colt in the futurity, which will carry a $2,520 in prize money. He starts.

Harold (Red) Kenne will be in the irons when Flying Scud goes to the post.

Brookfield Farms' Intentionally, with Willie Shoemaker aboard, is regarded the pre-race favorite. Veteran Eddie Arcaro will be on Pin Oak Farm's Derrick, Howard Grant on Biardale Farms' Rico Tesio and Bill Hartack on King Ranch's Black Hills.

Other horses expected to start are Briardale Farm's Funeves, Cambridge Stable's Pilot, Cockfield Stable's Bimmer, Mrs. Wallace Gilroy's Jet Fuel, J. E. McLaughlin's McLeilan, Mrs. E. D. Jacobs' That Lucky Day and Rokeby Stable's Harvert Singins.

Eleven Bowls Get Approval From NCAA

NEW YORK (UPI)—Eleven post-season football bowl games were approved today by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which also predicted that the number of bowl games may soon reach a new high for recent years.

The 11 games "certified" for this season have been found to be complying with NCAA regulations on post-season games and certification means that NCAA members will be allowed to play in them.

These are:

- Nov. 22: Mineral Water Bowl at Excelsior Springs, Mo.
- Nov. 27: Citricado Bowl at Escondido, Calif.
- Dec. 13: Blue Grass Bowl at Louisville, Ky.
- Dec. 27: Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.
- Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla.
- Dec. 31: Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex.
- Jan. 1: Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.
- Colton Bowl at Dallas, Tex.
- Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla.
- Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, La.
- Prairie View Bowl at Prairie View, Tex.

The NCAA also announced that a Liberty Bowl game in Philadelphia has been certified for the 1959 season.

And applications for four other post-season games will be considered by the Extra Events Committee of the NCAA at the NCAA convention in Cincinnati, Jan. 7-9. An NCAA spokesman identified the cities involved as Houston, Memphis, Charleston, Mo., and Baton Rouge.

The 11 games now being played comprise the highest total since the NCAA clamped regulations on bowl participation eight years ago. Before that clamp-down as many as 31 different post-season games were played annually.

Cumberland's Ron Shaffer, one of the top offensive ends in the Atlantic Coast Conference for the University of Maryland, didn't catch a pass last week as the Terps trimmed Miami, 20-14, in the Orange Bowl but still leads the Terps in pass receiving.

Ron tied last week for runnerup honors in the ACC, has safely tucked in 18 aeriels for 141 yards and a touchdown.

Line Of Colts Big Reason For Success

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — One secret to the success of the Baltimore Colts this season is that their offensive linemen are excellent defensive players.

That doesn't mean they go both ways. The Colts have plenty of good defensive specialists as attested by two shutouts in their last three National Football League games.

Defend Their Passers
But the offensive linemen, particularly between the ends, have to do a lot of defending of their passers.

"Nobody does a better job of protecting the passer than our line," praises Gino Marchetti. He's a defensive all-pro end for the Colts and one of the most feared pass rushers in the league.

"We have the best offensive guards and tackles in the league," adds Marchetti.

Don Joyce, the other end, agrees. "Gino and I have our toughest time of the year in the intrasquad game, trying to beat Jim Parker and George Preas," he says.

Parker's ability to make good as a pro tackle as a rookie last year was the big difference in the Colts' offensive line. It permitted Coach Webb Ewbank to move Preas over to right tackle.

All Three Veterans
Preas is in his fourth pro year. Art Spinney has been at one guard for six seasons and Alex Sandusky is taking care of the other for the fifth year.

Between them is Madison (Buz) Nutter in his third term as a starting center.

The ends are both veterans, too. Jim Mutscheller for five years and Raymond Berry for four.

The Colts passers have been so protected they went through four of their games without being dumped for a yard loss. In all, John Unitas and George Shaw have lost only 40 yards in the four other games.

By contrast, enemy passers have been thrown for a total loss of 179 yards by Marchetti, Joyce and their defensive mates.

Day In Sports

Interceptions... Hot Rod, whose pilfering of a Miami pass late in the game last Friday night was one of the key plays in the Maryland victory, has hauled down three enemy tosses for a return of 24 yards.

Herbert Ball, offensive line coach of Baltimore, was given a tribute this morning by Jack Walsh, staff reporter of the Washington Post Times-Herald, in his article about the Baltimore Colts.

Ball, in his 15th year of pro coaching, states Walsh, "is regarded among his fellow coaches and players, as doing a tremendous job in helping the team rank as the No. 1 offensive team. The line's pass protection has been great, only 40 yards have been lost all season attempting to pass."

That's the best mark in the league, too. "It was also pointed out that Ball still has the unchallenged record of staying on the payroll of the Redskins' George Marshall as a coach for 11 years. He was head coach in 1949-51."

Potomac State's cagers drew the strong West Liberty team for their first game in the round-robin tourney sponsored by the New Martinsville Chamber of Commerce next Friday and Saturday night.

Wheeling meets Davis & Elkins in the other semi-final. The winners compete in the title round Saturday night with a consolation clash also scheduled.

A trophy will be awarded the winning team and a Most Valuable Player also selected. The tourney being staged at the Magnolia High School gym which will seat about 500, will begin at 7 p.m. a week from Friday night.

Television will offer an unusual sports "first" prior to the nationwide telecast of the Notre Dame-Iowa football game this Saturday.

A half hour before the game telecast, sports fans will see the highlights of Notre Dame's week of preparation for the game. Then football followers will see in the actual game how successful these plans really were.

Cameras, this week, will probe into a coaches' conference led by Terry Brennan where defenses have been set up for the lightning Iowa attack. From there the cameras will follow the Irish onto the practice field and record the execution of the plans drawn in conference.

STILL CARRYING—The uniform is different, but the stance is the same for Marion Motley. The one-time great fullback of the professional Browns now is employed in Cleveland, but fans remember the way he carried the mail in football.

Milsted Again Leader For Total Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — They didn't know if crippled Charley Milsted of Texas A&M could start against Rice last week. But the tailback picked up 185 yards to regain the lead in total offense among the major college players.

Milsted scored 2 touchdowns and passed for another while edging Iowa's Randy Duncan by 7 yards, 1,189 to 1,182. The race resumed today by NCAA Service Bureau statistics is so tight that the man who led a week ago, Virginia's Bill Holsclaw, now is sixth, but only 94 yards behind Milstead.

Longfellow Fourth
Joe Kapp of California, who may oppose Duncan and Iowa in the Rose Bowl, is a close third with 1,131, followed by Dick Longfellow, West Virginia's passer, Dick Bass, the College of Pacific runner who has been leading the nation in rushing yardage all season, ranks fifth in total offense with 1,102 yards.

Bass has picked up 1,037 yards rushing on 152 plays, 256 yards more than the runnerup, Bob White of Ohio State.

The best forward passer in number of completions is Ralph Hunsaker of Arizona with 92, but he trails Duncan in both yardage and percentage of completions. Duncan has completed 91 of 131 for 1,163 yards and 9 touchdowns.

Duncan Stars In Defeat
Despite Iowa's defeat by Ohio State, Duncan had a tremendous day, completing 22 of 33 passes for 249 yards. He lost 3 on the ground and thus wound up with a net of 246 for the day. While carried 33 times for 209 yards, and Don Clark, his running mate, carried 15 times for 152 yards.

Jack Cummings of North Carolina, who had gained 1,019 yards passing, is tied with Navy's Joe Tranchini for the most touchdown tosses. Each has 11.

Myers Named By UPI For Coach Award

By KYLE THOMPSON
COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Here's a problem for armchair football coaches:

You are nearing the end of your first season as head coach at a certain school, your team has just lost two games by the depressing scores of 21-8 and 33-0, and even the dumbest freshman on the campus knows that your squad is a 19 - point underdog when it meets the team that is leading the league.

Question: How do you make your players forget those two shellackings and get set up for an upset?

Coach Jim Myers of Texas A&M solved that riddle with spectacular success Saturday when his five-times-beaten Aggies rose up to riddle Rice, 28 - 21, and knock the Owls out of first place in the Southwest Conference and possibly out of a bowl berth. That's why today he's being honored by United Press International as football's "Coach of the Week."

"The boys really felt bad about those two losses to Arkansas and SMU," explained Myers. "We had so many injured I couldn't take a chance on anyone else getting hurt, so we just had light workouts during the week. But I could tell it was a different team than it had been before this season—the boys were very spirited and worked up and ready for the game."

On the day of the game, Myers kept the squad in the dressing room until 10 minutes before the kickoff while their pent-up spirits neared the explosion point. Then he sent them roaring out to the field, ready to roll.

Reight Boosts Scoring Lead

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — Mel (Lefty) Reight boosted his scoring in the Southern Conference to 58 points last weekend and moved within striking distance of at least two West Virginia University records, statistics showed today.

Reight's performance in WVU's last three games has nearly overshadowed that of quarterback Dick Longfellow.

Reight nabbed 17 passes in those three games to bring his season's total to 28, seven short of the Mountaineer record set by Paul Bischoff in 1950. Reight needs only three more points to surpass Jack Stone's and Bobby Moss' scoring mark.

Longfellow, also seeking to rewrite the record book, needs to complete only 18 more passes to better Jimmy Walshall's 1948 mark of 89 and 70 yards to pass Walshall's 1,196 yard total offense standard.

Reight also has intercepted three passes and returned them 74 yards for the top spot in that department.

Ray Peterson leads in rushing with 275 yards and kickoff returns with 150 yards. Sophomore Johnny Marra jumped into first place in punt returns with five for 104 yards, and Danny Williams retained his hold on the top spot in punting with a 36.7 yard average per boot.

Locks Increase Lead In Railway Circuit

Locks increased their lead in the Western Maryland Railway Bowling League to four games by defeating Squares while the second-place Castles were bowing to Hex.

Abe DeArcangelis of the Locks had a 202 game and 501 set. Others with top scores were Peanut Grim, 187 and Harry Hammer, 410. Squares, Bob Klavnick, 184-461. Castles, and Dick Swick, 184-522. Hex, Standings:

Dunkel Picks Iowa By Four In Irish Game

By DICK DUNKLE
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — Tizzled football fans of the Sunshine State are divided down the middle as Saturday's inaugural meeting of the University of Florida State eleven draws near.

The Gainesville Gators, long-time SEC toughies, have a Dunkel Rating of 97.0. But the upstart Tallahassee Seminoles stand only two-tenths of a point lower, at 96.8. Feuding coaches have needed the new rivalry and an overflow crowd is assured.

Similar peak patronage is expected at New Orleans where top ranking LSU (108.8) will try to wind up a perfect season with a win over Tulane (90.8). The rating difference is 18.

Other national leaders show the following pars over Saturday's opposition:
Oklahoma 34 over Nebraska, Iowa 4 over Notre Dame, Wis. 17 over Minnesota, Purdue 17 over Indiana, Ohio State 17 over Mich.

Auburn 26 over Wake Forest. Forecasting accuracy of the system, which is a continuous index of scoring difference relative to rating of opposition, has been 75.1 percent in 1,713 games, omitting ties, covered to date.

In other big games the pars are:
EAST — Syracuse 13 over W. Virginia, Rutgers 32 over Columbia, Holy Cross 8 over Marquette, Dartmouth 7 over Princeton, Harvard 11 over Yale.

MIDWEST — Northwestern 7 over Illinois, Missouri 4 over Kansas.
SOUTH — No. Carolina 4 over Duke, Kentucky 2 over Duke, Kentucky 2 over Tennessee, Alabama 10 over Memphis State, Miami, Fla., even with Houston (Fri.).

SOUTHWEST — TCU 5 over Rice, SMU 12 over Baylor, Arkansas 19 over Texas Tech.
FAR WEST — So. California 11 over UCLA, Wash. State 13 over Washington, Air Force 16 over N. Mexico, California 10 over Stanford, Oregon State 5 over Oregon, Colorado 8 over Colo. State.

Greenberg Sells Cleveland Stock
CLEVELAND (AP) — The battle between two groups of Cleveland Indian stockholders is over. After 10 years in the Tribe's front office, Hank Greenberg is bowing out.

A faction headed by Greenberg, former Tribe general manager, sold out Tuesday to the majority stockholders led by William R. Daley, Indians' board chairman.

The purchase price for the stock of Greenberg and two brothers, Charles M. and Andrew Baxter, was rumored at $900,000. There was no official confirmation. Greenberg and the Baxter brothers will resign as directors of the club.

Schoendienst, Victim Of TB, Webb Fights Determined He'll Play Again

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Red Schoendienst, Milwaukee Braves second baseman, has tuberculosis but his wife said he is determined to play again in the major leagues.

Schoendienst's personal physician, Dr. Ray Martin, said a series of tests disclosed beyond a doubt that the veteran ballplayer has TB and probably will not be able to play next year.

But Schoendienst's wife, Mary, said Tuesday night that he was "in very good spirits and determined to play again."

Red is in Mount St. Rose Sanitarium here. For a week or 10 days he will not be permitted to receive telephone calls or visitors except members of his immediate family. Dr. Martin said "he's a sick man and needs bed rest."

The doctor made no estimate on how long it would take Schoendienst to recuperate but said he was "optimistic about a full recovery."

Braves officials said the team would miss the slim infielder but expressed confidence they could win without him.

Manager Fred Haney said three Braves are second base material. Mel Roach, Felix Mantilla and Cassey Wise. Roach, recovering from surgery to repair torn knee ligaments, apparently is the most likely replacement.

Schoendienst, 35 and veteran of 13 years in the majors, led the Braves to their 1957 world championship. He was bothered virtually all last season with a chest cold which developed into pneumonia. He also injured a rib and broke a finger. He batted only .262.

In spite of his rundown condition, he played a splendid 1958 World Series, batting .300 and fielding well.

45 Teams Start Invitational Play

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — A total of 45 teams, each composed of one professional and three amateurs, tee off today for the best ball foursome title in the West Palm Beach Invitational golf tournament.

The 72-hole, $15,000 tournament officially gets underway Thursday with some of the best pros in the game competing. Among them will be Masters champion Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa.; PGA champion Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla., and U.S. Open champion Tommy Bolt, Granada Hills, Calif.

Bill Markham, Saginaw, Mich., fired a five-under-par 67 Tuesday to lead a field of 65 qualifiers, including nine amateurs. Competing in the tournament will be 135 golfers, including 70 of the top pros who were exempted from qualifying.

Bill Berger, Youngstown, Ohio, shot a hole-in-one Tuesday on the 185-yard, par-three third hole.

The Cleveland Barons and the Providence Reds have been playing in the American Hockey League since 1966 when the circuit was organized.

Webb Fights Giardello In Cow Palace

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Ellsworth (Spider) Webb, who scored a rousing knockout over Rory Calhoun last January in the Cow Palace, climbs back into the same ring tonight for a nationally televised, 10-round middleweight bout with Joey Giardello.

The fight is scheduled to start at 10 p.m. EST and Giardello, who only has been stopped twice, is a 7-5 favorite.

Both boys claim they were victimized by hometown decisions in their last outings. Giardello lost a well-boiled, split decision here to Joey Glambra in June. Webb was outpointed in Salt Lake City two months ago by Gene Fullmer when the latter closed fast to wipe out an early lead.

It figures as a key bout for both fighters since an IBC spokesman has declared that the organization wants to match the winner with champion Ray Robinson in a title go here.

Wonder Bar Dux Tie Continues
Scowdrivers and Gin Nickies played deadlocked for first place in the Wonder Bar Bowling League by taking three games from the Hock & Ryce and Whisky Sours, respectively. Other league action saw the Sneaky Peles win tonight from the Rum Runners.

Scowdrivers	20 10 Hock & Ryce	16 11

Longfellow Dixie Leader For Offense

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Virginia's pitch and catch, Dick Longfellow and Mel (Lefty) Reight will be out to lead the Southern Conference lead this weekend.

Longfellow passed Billy Holsclaw of Virginia Tech in the total offense race with 133 yards in a 56-0 rout of William and Mary. Holsclaw was limited to 114 yards as the Gobblers were trounced 41 - 0 by Mississippi Southern.

Reight has 28 receptions, totaling the old mark of 31 set last year by Davidson's Craig Wall. Holsclaw, of Charleston, W. Va., lost his total offense lead the first time this year as a result of his disappointing performance against Mississippi Southern.

Both he and Longfellow have surpassed the old conference total offense record of 1,017 yards set by The Citadel's Bobby Schwartz in 1957. Longfellow now has 1,127 yards and Holsclaw 1,065. Both have one game left. Holsclaw against VMI and Longfellow against Syracuse.

Longfellow also has opened up a substantial lead as the league's top passer. He now leads Holsclaw by 10 completions, a gain of seven over his margin of a week ago.

In other departments, VMI's Sam Horner strengthened his first place grip in rushing with a 100 yard output, but slipped to second place in punting. The new leader is the Citadel's Joe Davis with a 40.4 yard average.

City Cage League Will Meet Tonight
The City Basketball League will organize for the 1968-69 season tonight at a meeting in City Hall at 8 o'clock.

The city circuit functioned last season with six teams, namely, Loyal Order of Moose, Old Exports, Old Germans, Forty-Eight Club, Knights of Columbus and Chanoy's Transportation.

Representatives of these teams and new teams seeking franchises are urged to attend tonight's session.

Amcelle Staff Officials To Hear Market Techniques

W. E. Crooks, manager of the Amcelle plant, announced that the staff officials of the Textile Division of Celanese Corporation of America will present a program on marketing techniques tomorrow to Amcelle staff members.

Heading the delegation will be John W. Brode, vice-president and general manager of the Textile Division, who will describe the division's total marketing concept in a meeting at the Cumberland Country Club tomorrow evening before approximately 275 management employees.

Also participating with Brooks in presenting the marketing program will be Louis Lavin, merchandising manager, and Dr. R. B. Stoll, director of application and product development at the division's Charlotte laboratories.

The visitors will arrive by special plane tomorrow morning. They will have lunch at the plant cafeteria with the plant manager and superintendents, followed by a tour of the Amcelle yarn production facilities before going to the Country Club for the program beginning at 5 p. m. Dinner will follow the program at 7 p. m.

Other Textile Division officials expected to be present include Dave Taylor, manager of manufacturing; Peter Conze, textile marketing director; J. C. Boston and Waring Best, assistant directors; W. D. Clark Jr., general manager; F. M. Davidson, manager of customer service; and C. F. Horn, assistant to the general manager.

Since the Celanese textile marketing program has received favorable notices in recent issues of the Wall Street Journal, Barron's Weekly, Business Week and other national publications, Crooks said there is great interest among Amcelle people in hearing the program described by the officials who conceived and are directing it.

Acting Skill Of Cheyenne Star Blasted

Critic Says Harden One Level Below Robertson, Callahan

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—I mustered up enough stupefaction Tuesday night to watch ABC-TV's "Cheyenne" all the way through and I must say that its hero, Ty Hardin, possesses an almost spectacular lack of acting skills.

I would place Harden one level below Dale Robertson, of NBC-TV's "Wells Fargo" and Rory Callahan of CBS-TV's "The Texan."

I'm afraid I didn't understand the camera work on one portion of CBS-TV's "To Tell The Truth" Tuesday night—while Polly Bergen was spinning a hula hoop, the lensman was zeeing in on her face. Henry Morgan visited CBS-TV's "Arthur Godfrey Show" Tuesday night and the following exchange took place:

Godfrey: "I have no talent. I play the fiddle like—badly. That's all."

Morgan: "That's true."

Carl Reiner, a brilliant second banana, really sparked the portions of the NBC-TV "George Gobel Show" that I caught Tuesday night. One skit set in a supermarket poked some wonderfully funny bills.

Steve Allen, interviewed Tuesday night on "The Ben Hunter Show"—which is seen only in the New York area—had this to say: "I could put on a much better show than I put on now on Sundays if I were working for, say, the BBC." Allen was referring to the need to cater to mass tastes because of the pressures of ratings and sponsors' needs.

I believe my favorite line of the TV week occurred Tuesday night on the NBC-TV "Jack Paar Show" when Tallulah Bankhead casually remarked: "I smoked hashish once and got sick as a dog."

The Channel Swim: NBC-TV has an option on "Showboat" and wants Polly Bergen to star in it. Bill Leyden will pinch hit for Jack Paar on the latter's NBC-TV show this Friday—Paar is going to Washington to accept an award.

CBS Radio will revamp its entire schedule on Jan. 5—network time will be cut from the present 55 or 60 hours a week to about 30 hours per week. Bishop Fulton J. Sheen will be featured in a special half-hour ABC-TV Christmas Day show.

ABC-TV is looking for a new time slot for "Man With A Camera"—its Friday night ratings are a little soggy. Tammy Grimes, who is Christopher Plummer's wife, and Sally Gracie, who is Rod Steiger's wife, will play a couple of floozies in the CBS-TV special "Gift of the Magi," Dec. 9.

An NBC-TV Dec. 14 special, "The Hallmark Christmas Tree," will offer Ralph Bellamy, Carol Channing, Maurice Evans, Tom Poston, Cyril Richard, William Shatner and Jessica Tandy. Cliff Arquette will be featured once a month as "Charlie Weaver" on the NBC-TV "Tennessee Ernie Ford Show."

Man Escapes Injuries In Local Mishap

Robert H. Ott, 37, Bedford, Pa., escaped serious injury yesterday in a one-car accident on Bedford Street.

Ott, employed on the flood control project here, sustained only a broken tooth in the accident which demolished his car.

The Bedford man told police he fell asleep at the wheel of his automobile as he was driving to work. The vehicle veered to the right and struck a stone wall about 100 yards or so from the Frederick Street-Bedford Street crossover at the city limits on U. S. 220 north.

The force of the collision with the stone wall caused the car to cross over, hit an embankment and turn upside down in the middle of Bedford Street. The driver was able to walk away from the accident. Police said they couldn't understand how he hadn't been killed or seriously hurt in the mishap.

City Police directed traffic around the overturned vehicle until it could be removed from the scene. Traffic was delayed during the operation of righting the car to be towed away, they said. Officers Presley C. Jenkins, Donald Boggs, James W. Bolyard and Thomas E. Andrews investigated the accident.

Local C. of C. Group Checks Civic Center

Possibilities Of Establishing Unit Will Be Surveyed

Possibilities of establishment of a Civic Center in Cumberland is being surveyed by the civic affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The item has been placed on the Chamber's agenda, officials said, since the present National Guard Armory will be available when the new training center is completed in Ridgedale Addition of the city.

The committee, headed by Louis V. Shinnaman, has been asked to explore the subject, including the first cost, cost of maintenance, possible income, uses and sponsorship.

The same committee has been asked to sponsor a long-range plan for city beautification and for signs welcoming visitors to the Queen City.

The improvement of U.S. Routes 40 and 220, improvement in the city's traffic situation and a new Wiley Ford Bridge have been assigned to the roads committee, headed by Albert S. Paye.

Tours of attractions of the area, a campaign to publicize Western Maryland as a year-around vacationland and additional facilities for visitors and conventions are the special projects assigned to the tourist committee, headed by Patrick I. Stakem.

Improved water supplies for the Cumberland area is the special task assigned to the area planning commission, also headed by Paye.

The business relations committee has been asked to establish a business-education program in schools and industries of the area.

The late Hal Sims was once asked, "How would you have played my hand?" He promptly replied, "Under an assumed name."

category but his play left nothing to be desired.

East won the opening trump lead and shifted to the jack of spades. South played the queen and West won with the ace. A spade return lost to South's king and he promptly led the suit back.

East won and led a fourth spade forgetting that when both sides play the same suit one is likely to be wrong.

South ruffed and ran out all his trumps but one. He discarded one club and three small diamonds from dummy and East and West each felt impelled to hang on to three clubs. Since they were left with only four cards each, neither had two diamonds left. South cashed dummy's two aces, ruffed a club and his deuce of diamonds won the last trick.

Of course, either East or West could have held on to two diamonds and ruined South's play. It just happened that the swindle worked.

Old West Virginia Law Cited To Court In Behalf Of Auditor Sims' "Late Payday" Move

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—An ancient state law gave Auditor Sims authority to make deductions from the checks of state employees.

The auditor had maintained the old practice of submitting payrolls before the end of the pay period sometimes required the writing of corrective checks. Besides, he said, it is illegal to pay an employee "before his services have been rendered."

Snyder argued that it is not unreasonable "to require state officials to wait until after an event has occurred before certifying as to its occurrence."

The new policy was challenged in two motions for writs of mandamus in the names of State officers "shall be paid in equal installments at the end of each month."

Snyder said the fact that checks may be delayed a number of days under Sims' new policy makes no difference. He said the wording of the 1943 statute leaves precedence over a 25-year-old act which said that all state officers "shall be paid in equal installments at the end of each month."

Snyder said the fact that checks may be delayed a number of days under Sims' new policy makes no difference. He said the wording of the 1943 statute leaves precedence over a 25-year-old act which said that all state officers "shall be paid in equal installments at the end of each month."

commissioner was an appointive official whose salary is fixed by law and said state code provides he be paid at the end of each month.

In the case of Miss Ford, Mayor Charles Mahan of Fayetteville argued in behalf of Graneville which he said stipulated that the case, he pointed out the roadhouse when state employees under jurisdiction are to be paid. Mahan added that the board regulations provide a monthly payment and not on a basis of bi-weekly or any other basis. At Mid-October, Sims said he would accept half-month payrolls if departments wanted to submit them.

Mahan argued that the 1943 law gave the auditor authority only to make deductions for bonds and insofar as he purports to exceed that power, his actions, rules, regulations and directives are illegal and void.
